The Routledge Handbook of Service User Involvement in Human Services Research and Education Hugh McLaughlin, Peter Beresford, Colin Cameron, Helen Casey, Joe Duffy, 2020-08-10 Worldwide there has been a growth in service user involvement in education and research in recent years This handbook is the first book which identifies what is happening in different regions of the world to provide different countries and client groups with the opportunity to learn from each other The book is divided into five sections Section One examines service user involvement in context exploring theoretical issues which underpin service user involvement In Section Two we focus on the state of service user involvement in human services education and research across the globe including examples of innovative practice but also identifying examples of where it is not happening and why Section Three offers more detailed examination of such involvement in a wide range of professional education learning settings Section Four focuses on the involvement of service users in research involving a wide range of service user groups and situations Lastly Section Five explores future challenges for education and research to ensure involvement remains meaningful The book includes forty eight chapters including seventeen case studies from all regions of the world this is the first book to both highlight the subject s methodological and theoretical issues and give practical examples in education and research for those wishing to engage in this field It will be of interest to all service users scholars and students of social work nursing occupational therapy and other human service subjects

Reimagining the Human Service Relationship Jaber F. Gubrium, Tone A. Andreassen, Per K. Solvang, 2016-07-05 The traditional lines of demarcation between service providers and service users are shifting Professionals in managed service organizations are working to incorporate the voices of service users into their missions and the way they function and service users with growing access to knowledge have taken on the semblances of professional expertise Additionally the human services environment has been transformed by administrative imperatives The drive toward greater efficiency and accountability has weakened the bond between users and providers Reimagining the Human Service Relationship is informed by the premise that the helping relationship should be seen as developing in the interactive space between those who provide human services and those who receive them The contributors to this volume redefine the contours roles institutional divisions means and aims of providing and receiving services in a range of settings including child welfare addiction treatment social enterprise doctoring mental health and palliative care Though they advocate an experience near approach they remain sensitive to the ambiguities and competing rationalities of the service relationship Taken together these chapters reimagine the service relationship by making visible the working relevancies of service delivery
