

A historical black and white photograph of a crowded tenement street, likely in the Lower East Side of New York City. The street is filled with people, many of whom are sitting on the ground or on low benches. In the background, there are multi-story brick buildings with many windows. A diagonal banner with a light blue background and dark blue text is overlaid on the image.

Chosen Capital The Jewish Encounter With American Capitalism:

Chosen Capital Rebecca Kobrin, 2012-08-20 At which moments and in which ways did Jews play a central role in the development of American capitalism Many popular writers address the intersection of Jews and capitalism but few scholars perhaps fearing this question's anti-Semitic overtones have pondered it openly Chosen Capital represents the first historical collection devoted to this question in its analysis of the ways in which Jews in North America shaped and were shaped by America's particular system of capitalism Jews fundamentally molded aspects of the economy during the century when American capital was being redefined by industrialization war migration and the emergence of the United States as a superpower Surveying such diverse topics as Jews participation in the real estate industry the liquor industry and the scrap metal industry as well as Jewish political groups and unions bent on reforming American capital such as the American Labor Party and the International Ladies Garment Workers Union contributors to this volume provide a new prism through which to view the Jewish encounter with America The volume also lays bare how American capitalism reshaped Judaism itself by encouraging the mass manufacturing and distribution of foods like matzah and the transformation of synagogue cantors into recording stars These essays force us to rethink not only the role Jews played in American economic development but also how capitalism has shaped Jewish life and Judaism over the course of the twentieth century Contributors Marni Davis Georgia State University Phyllis Dillon independent documentary producer textile conservator museum curator Andrew Dolkart Columbia University Andrew Godley Henley Business School University of Reading Jonathan Karp executive director American Jewish Historical Society Daniel Katz Empire State College State University of New York Ira Katznelson Columbia University David S Koffman New York University Eli Lederhendler Hebrew University Jerusalem Jonathan Z S Pollack University of Wisconsin Madison Jonathan D Sarma Brandeis University Jeffrey Shandler Rutgers University Daniel Soyer Fordham University Entrepreneurs and Capitalism since Luther Ivan Light, Léo-Paul Dana, 2020-08-20 In Entrepreneurs and Capitalism since Luther Rediscovering the Moral Economy Ivan Light and L o Paul Dana study the history of business capitalism and entrepreneurship to examine the values of social and cultural capital Six chapters evaluate case studies that illustrate contrasting relationships between social networks vocational culture and entrepreneurship Light and Dana argue that in capitalism's early stages cultural capital is scarcer than social capital and therefore more crucial for business owners Conversely when capitalism is well established social capital is scarcer than cultural capital and becomes more crucial Light and Dana then trace moral legitimations of capitalism from the Reformation to the Enlightenment the Gilded Age and finally to Joseph Schumpeter whose concept of creative destruction freed elite entrepreneurs from moral restraints that encumber small business owners After examining the availability of social and cultural capital in the contemporary United States Light and Dana show that business owners social capital enforces conventional morality in markets facilitating commerce and legitimating small businesses the old fashioned way As their networks become more isolated elite entrepreneurs must claim and ultimately deliver successful results to earn public toleration of immoral or predatory conduct The Radicalization of European Jews in the US Metropolis Frank Jacob, 2024-08-19 During the late 19th and early 20th centuries many Jews from Central and Eastern Europe arrived in New York City where they did not only find a new home but far away from their shtetl origin the new members of the American society also began to politically radicalize There has been a discussion in the literature related to the field where how and why the Jewish population radicalized This study analyses two waves of radicalization one related to the American environment that is responsible for the described process at the end of the 19th century one related to the developments in Eastern Europe during the early decades of the 20th century For both radicalization processes this book compares the reasons elements and aims of those who join radical movements to show that there is a transatlantic perspective that links both processes to each other The Oxford Handbook of American Jewish History Shari Rabin, Michael R. Cohen, Stuart and Suzanne Grant Professor in the American Jewish Experience Michael R. Cohen, 2025-12-09 The Oxford Handbook of American Jewish History creates a vibrant dialogue among the varied approaches to the study of American Jews taking stock of the field and working to move it forward in conversation with American history and modern Jewish history Modern Orthodox Judaism: A Documentary History Zev Eleff, 2016-07-01 Modern Orthodox Judaism offers an extensive selection of primary texts documenting the Orthodox encounter with American Judaism that led to the emergence of the Modern Orthodox movement Many texts in this volume are drawn from episodes of conflict that helped form Modern Orthodox Judaism These include the traditionalists response to the early expressions of Reform Judaism as well as incidents that helped define the widening differences between Orthodox and Conservative Judaism in the early twentieth century Other texts explore the internal struggles to maintain order and balance once Orthodox Judaism had separated itself from other religious movements Zev Eleff combines published documents with seldom seen archival sources in tracing Modern Orthodoxy as it developed into a structured movement established its own institutions and encountered critical events and issues some that helped shape the movement and others that caused tension within it A general introduction explains the rise of the movement and puts the texts in historical context Brief introductions to each section guide readers through the documents of this new dynamic Jewish expression From Left to Right Nancy Sinkoff, 2020-03-10 Intellectual biography of Holocaust historian Lucy S Dawidowicz From Left to Right Lucy S Dawidowicz the New York Intellectuals and the Politics of Jewish History is the first comprehensive biography of Dawidowicz 1915 1990 a pioneer historian in the field that is now called Holocaust studies Dawidowicz was a household name in the postwar years not only because of her scholarship but also due to her political views Dawidowicz like many other New York intellectuals was a youthful communist became an FDR democrat midcentury and later championed neoconservatism Nancy Sinkoff argues that Dawidowicz s rightward shift emerged out of living in prewar Poland watching the Holocaust unfold from New York City and working with displaced persons in postwar Germany Based on over forty five archival collections From Left to Right
