Children of Darkness" Carlos Finch, 2022-07-12 If you want your true personal relationship with GOD If you want to become part of the Kingdom of Heaven If you want your Guardian Angel If you want to effectively defend yourself against in home sacrifices and cannibalism If you want to effectively defend yourself from the occult s magical attacks If you want to be a Clairvoyant Then you want this book

Jerusalem in Medieval Narrative Suzanne M. Yeager, 2008-11-06 An original study of the political religious and literary uses of representations of the holy city in the fourteenth century

Empire of Magic Geraldine Heng, 2003 Empire of Magic offers a genesis and genealogy for medieval romance and the King Arthur legend through the history of Europe s encounters with the East in crusades travel missionizing and empire formation It also produces definitions of race and nation for the medieval period and posits that the Middle Ages and medieval fantasies of race and religion have recently returned Drawing on feminist and gender theory as well as cultural analyses of race class and colonialism this provocative book revises our understanding of the beginnings of the nine hundred year old cultural genre we call romance as well as the King Arthur legend Geraldine Heng argues that romance arose in the twelfth century as a cultural response to the trauma and horror of taboo acts in particular the cannibalism committed by crusaders on the bodies of Muslim enemies in Syria during the First Crusade From such encounters with the East Heng suggests sprang the fantastical episodes featuring King Arthur in Geoffrey of Monmouth s chronicle The History of the Kings of England a work where history and fantasy collide and merge each into the other inventing crucial new examples and models for romances to come After locating the rise of romance and Arthurian legend in the contact zones of East and West Heng demonstrates the adaptability of romance and its key role in the genesis of an English national identity Discussing Jews women children and sexuality in works like the romance of Richard Lionheart stories of the saintly Constance Arthurian chivalric literature the legend of Prester John and travel narratives Heng shows how fantasy enabled audiences to work through issues of communal identity race color class and alternative sexualities in socially sanctioned and safe modes of cultural discussion in which pleasure not anxiety was paramount Romance also engaged with the threat of modernity in the late medieval period as economic social and technological transformations occurred and awareness grew of a vastly enlarged world beyond Europe one encompassing India China and Africa Finally Heng posits romance locates England and Europe within an empire of magic and knowledge that surveys the world and makes it intelligible usable for the future Empire of Magic is expansive in scope spanning the eleventh to the fifteenth centuries and detailed in coverage examining various types of romance historical national popular chivalric family and travel romances among others to see how cultural fantasy responds to changing crises pressures and demands in a number of different ways Boldly controversial theoretically sophisticated and historically rooted Empire of Magic is a dramatic restaging of the role romance played in the culture of a period and world in ways that suggest how cultural fantasy still functions for us today Placing and Displacing Romanticism Peter J. Kitson, 2001 The essays collected in this volume all address the crucial current issues of place and displacement placing and displacing in Romantic period studies These terms are used with dexterity and imagination explored and interrogated in both their literal and figurative manifestations Overall this volume of essays takes forward these seminal terms in contemporary criticism of Romantic writing in a series of fresh and subtle readings of texts and contexts historical philosophical social political and scientific Familiar texts are revisited with new insight and unfamiliar texts are placed in meaningful contexts Despite the claim that Romantic writing denies and evades history and the social tensions of its time this volume shows how such writing is replete with both explicit and implicit contributions to the essential debates of the time The contributors to this volume all leading scholars in their field combine the virtues of close textual reading with an informed awareness of the historical political and social pressures of the Romantic period encouraging a critical stance of historically engaged formalist critique

The Cannibal Within Lewis F. Petrinovich, The Cannibal Within offers an evolutionary account of the propensity of human beings in extreme circumstances to eat other human beings despite the strong Western taboo against such practices What sets this volume apart from the large body of literature on cannibalism both popular and anthropological is the underlying premise cannibalism as an alternative to starvation is tacitly condoned by the same biological morality that would condemn cannibalism of other sorts in non threatening situations Deep as the taboos may be the survival instinct runs even deeper The title of the book reflects the author's belief that cannibalism is not a pathology that erupts in psychotic individuals but is a universal adaptive strategy that is evolutionarily sound The cannibal is within all of us and cannibals are within all cultures should the circumstances demand cannibalism's appearance and usage Petrinovich's work is rich in historical detail and rises to a level of theoretical sophistication in addressing a subject too often dealt with in sensationalist terms The major instances in which survival cannibalism has occurred convinced the author that there is a consistent pattern and a uniform regularity of order in which different kinds of individuals are consumed In considering who eats whom when and under what circumstances this regularity appears and it is consistent with what would be expected on the basis of evolutionary or Darwinian theory In short he concludes that starvation cannibalism is not a manifestation of the chaotic psychotic behavior of individuals who are driven to madness but reveals underlying characteristics of evolved human beings Lewis Petrinovich is professor emeritus in the Department of Psychology of the University of California Riverside and is currently a resident of Berkeley California
