Constructing Cause In International Relations:

Constructing Cause in International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2014-02-20 A novel approach to cause that builds on human reasons for acting and the consequences of behaviour by multiple actors Constructing Cause in International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2014-02-20 Cause is a problematic concept in social science as in all fields of knowledge We organise information in terms of cause and effect to impose order on the world but this can impede a more sophisticated understanding In his latest book Richard Ned Lebow reviews understandings of cause in physics and philosophy and concludes that no formulation is logically defensible and universal in its coverage This is because cause is not a feature of the world but a cognitive shorthand we use to make sense of it In practice causal inference is always rhetorical and must accordingly be judged on grounds of practicality Lebow offers a new approach inefficient causation that is constructivist in its emphasis on the reasons people have for acting as they do but turns to other approaches to understand the aggregation of their behaviour This novel approach builds on general understandings and idiosyncratic features of context Richard Ned Lebow: A Pioneer in International Relations Theory, History, Political Philosophy and Psychology Richard Ned Lebow, Nathan Funk, 2016-09-13 This is the first of four volumes to be published as part of this book series on the life and work of Richard Ned Lebow In a career spanning six decades Richard Ned Lebow has made important contributions to the study of international relations political and intellectual history motivational and social psychology philosophy of science and classics He has authored coauthored or edited 30 books and almost 250 peer reviewed articles These four volumes are excerpts from this corpus The first volume includes an intellectual autobiography bibliography and assessments of Lebow's contributions to diverse fields by respected authorities It shows how a scholar's agenda evolves in response to world events and his efforts to grapple with them theoretically and substantively It elaborates pathways for addressing these events and their consequences in an interdisciplinary manner and offers new concepts and methods for doing so Richard Lebow's research bridges international relations psychology history classics political theory and philosophy of science He is author coauthor or editor of 34 books and almost 250 peer reviewed articles Contributors to the book are Simon Reich Mervyn Frost Janice Gross Stein Stefano Guzzini Markus Kornprobst Harald Müller Christian Wendt Robert English National Identities and International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2016-10-20 A comparative study of how and why people identify with their countries and the implications for foreign policy Max Weber and International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2017-10-05 Max Weber explored the political epistemological and ethical problems of modernity and understood how closely connected they were His efforts are imaginative sophisticated even inspiring but also flawed Weber's epistemological successes and failures highlight unresolvable tensions that are just as pronounced today and from which we have much to learn This edited collection of essays offers novel readings of Weber's politics approach to knowledge rationality counterfactuals ideal types power bureaucracy the state history and the non Western world The conclusions look at how some of his prominent successors have addressed or finessed the tensions of the epistemological between subjective values and subjective knowledge the sociological between social rationalization and irrational myths the personal among conflicting values the political between the kinds of leaders democracies select and the national tasks that should be performed and the tragic between human conscience and worldly affairs

The Rise and Fall of Political Orders Richard Ned Lebow, 2018-09-13 Presents a new theory of the rise evolution decline and collapse of political orders exploring the impact of late modernity upon the survival of democratic and authoritarian regimes

Entangled Peace Ignasi Torrent, 2021-08-30 This book unfolds an exploratory journey intended to scrutinise the suitability of entanglements and relations as a mode of thinking and seeing peacebuilding events Through a reflection upon the UN's limited results in the endeavour towards securing lasting peace in war torn scenarios Torrent critically engages with three relevant debates in contemporary peacebuilding literature including the inclusion of the locals the achievement of organisational system wide coherence and the increasingly questioned agential condition of peacebuilding actors Inattentive to the relational vulnerability of involved stakeholders it is suggested that the UN seeks to secure a totalising modern distory defined in the book as a story that undoes other stories Whilst affirming the entangled ontogenesis of actors and processes in the conflict affected configuration Entangled Peace also delves into a cautionary argument about what the author refers to as entanglement fetishism namely the celebratory normative deterministic and exclusionary projection of a relational world Inspired by Alfred North Whitehead Entangled Peace is an invitation to speculate over the peacebuilding milieu and by extension the broader theatre of the real as radical openness in which events emanate from the collision of an infinite multiplicity of possible worlds

War and Its Causes Jeremy Black, 2019-01-21 This interdisciplinary book provides an invaluable perspective on the causes of war drawing on a thoughtful consideration of what war actually is the key foundation for an analysis of its causes Jeremy Black assesses the three main types of war between cultures within cultures and civil emphasizing the social and cultural factors leading to conflict He argues that cultural factors have always been the key element especially aggression in the shape of a willingness to kill and be killed which alters rational assumptions of risk and overcomes deterrence He assesses the predisposition of ideologies to think and act in terms of conflict the functional dynamics of international relations systems and the strengths and failures of diplomacy Drawing on research from history political science and international relations Black marshals global examples spanning the fifteenth century to the present Contrasting wars within cultures and wars between cultures he considers the implications for ongoing and future conflict
