Cibse Guide 5:

Building Energy Management Systems Geoff Levermore, 2013-07-04 Energy management systems are used to monitor building temperature inside and outside buildings and control the boilers and coolers Energy efficiency is a major cost issue for commerce and industry and of growing importance on university syllabuses Fully revised and updated this text considers new developments in the control of low energy and HVAC systems and contains two new chapters Written for practising engineers essential for control engineers and energy managers in addition to being essential reading for under postgraduate courses in building services and environmental engineering Energy: Management, Supply and Conservation Clive Beggs, 2012-06-25 With more and more concern being expressed over the Earth's dwindling energy resources as well as rising pollution levels the subject of energy management and conservation is becoming increasingly important Over half of all energy consumed is used in buildings so effective management of buildings whether commercial or domestic is vital This book is a comprehensive text dealing with the theory and practice of the supply of energy to consumers energy management and auditing and energy saving technology It will be a core text on courses on energy management and building services as well as updating professionals in the building sector Understanding the Building Regulations Simon Polley, 2014-09-15 Do you need a concise jargon free and compact guide to the UK building regulations Simon Polley boils down the regulations to their basic features explaining the core principles behind them Easy to read and light enough to carry around with you this is the ideal introduction to a vital part of your remit as a building control officer architect or surveyor Updated with the extensive 2013 changes and illustrated with cartoons and diagrams Building Services Engineering David V. Chadderton, 2013-01-25 Engineering services within buildings account for ongoing energy use greenhouse gas contribution and life safety provisions This fully updated sixth edition of David Chadderton's leading textbook is the perfect preparation for those intending to enter this increasingly important field Chapters addressing heating climate change air conditioning transportation systems water gas electricity drainage and room acoustics cover all the key responsibilities of the building services engineer As well as introductory material and the underpinning theory practical guidance is provided in the form of sample calculations and spreadsheets New material includes trends and recent applications in lowering the energy use by mechanical and electrical services systems heating cooling and lighting of buildings case studies modelled from post occupancy reports to provide realistic discussion topics examples of the use of photovoltaic solar panels chilled beams under floor air distribution labyrinths ground sourced heat pumps district heating and cooling energy performance certificates energy auditing and wind turbines outlines of the concepts of global warming carbon trading and zero carbon buildings exercises in each chapter and online self study questions A significantly expanded companion site offers over 1 000 self test questions powerpoint slides for lecturers and an instructors manual enabling the rapid generation of lectures assignments and tests This is the ideal textbook for students of building services engineering as well as a comprehensive guide for those about to start work Energy Management and Operating Costs in Buildings Keith Moss, 2013-06-17 Managing the consumption and conservation of energy in buildings must now become the concern of both building managers and occupants The provision of lighting hot water supply communications cooking space heating and cooling accounts for 45 per cent of UK energy consumption Energy Management and Operating Costs in Buildings introduces the reader to the principles of managing and conserving energy consumption in buildings people use for work or leisure Energy consumption is considered for the provision of space heating hot water supply ventilation and air conditioning The author introduces the use of standard performance indicators and energy consumption yardsticks and discusses the use and application of degree days

Building Services Design for Energy Efficient Buildings Paul Tymkow, Savvas Tassou, Maria Kolokotroni, Hussam Jouhara, 2020-07-12 The role and influence of building services engineers are undergoing rapid change and are pivotal to achieving low carbon buildings However textbooks in the field have tended to remain fairly traditional with a detailed focus on the technicalities of heating ventilation and air conditioning HVAC systems often with little wider context This book addresses that need by embracing a contemporary understanding of the urgent challenge to address climate change together with practical approaches to energy efficiency and carbon mitigation for mechanical and electrical systems in a concise manner The essential conceptual design issues for planning the principal building services systems that influence energy efficiency are examined in detail These are HVAC and electrical systems In addition the following issues are addressed background issues on climate change whole life performance and design collaboration generic strategies for energy efficient low carbon design health and wellbeing and post occupancy evaluation building ventilation air conditioning and HVAC system selection thermal energy generation and distribution systems low energy approaches for thermal control electrical systems data collection controls and monitoring building thermal load assessment building electric power load assessment space planning and design integration with other disciplines In order to deliver buildings that help mitigate climate change impacts a new perspective is required for building services engineers from the initial conceptual design and throughout the design collaboration with other disciplines This book provides a contemporary introduction and guide to this new approach for students and practitioners alike Newnes Building Services Pocket Book Andrew Prentice, John Knight, W.P.

Jones, 2012-05-31 Newnes Building Services Pocket Book is a unique compendium of essential data techniques and procedures best practice and underpinning knowledge This makes it an essential tool for engineers involved in the design and day to day running of mechanical services in buildings and a valuable reference for managers students and engineers in related fields This pocket reference gives the reader access to the knowledge and knowhow of the team of professional engineers who wrote the sixteen chapters that cover all aspects of mechanical building services Topic coverage includes heating systems ventilation air conditioning refrigeration fans ductwork pipework and plumbing drainage and fire protection The result is a comprehensive guide covering the selection of HVAC systems and the design process from initial drafts through to implementation The second edition builds on the success of this popular guide with references to UK and EU legislation fully updated throughout and coverage fully in line with the latest CIBSE guides

Sustainable Retrofitting of Commercial Buildings Richard Hyde,Nathan Groenhout,Francis Barram,Ken Yeang,2015-01-28 Despite recent improvements in energy efficiency being made in new build it is important that the existing commercial building sector also take action to meet emission reduction targets The objectives and challenges of such action will reduce the risk of the sector becoming obsolete due to high energy use and poor environmental performance This book presents a theory based practice support methodology to deal with sustainable retrofitting opportunities for existing commercial buildings in warm climates using bioclimatic design as the basis The book has four main parts focusing on eco design and renovation bioclimatic retrofitting technological and behavioural change and case studies of retrofitting exemplars In the first part the context of climate change effects on design and renovation at the city scale is discussed The second part looks at bioclimatic retrofitting as a design guide for existing buildings highlighting the significance of architectural design and engineering systems for energy performance The technological and behavioural contexts of the existing building sector policies modelling monitoring and trend analysis in respect to energy and environmental performance are covered in part three The final part gives some case studies showing the effectiveness of strategies suggested for effective environmental performance This book is a must have guide for all involved in the design and engineering of retrofitting projects in warm climates

A Handbook of Sustainable Building Design and Engineering Dejan Mumovic,Mat Santamouris,2013-06-17 The combined challenges of health comfort climate change and energy security cross the boundaries of traditional building disciplines This authoritative collection focusing mostly on energy and ventilation provides the current and next generation of building engineering professionals with what they need to work closely with many disciplines to meet these challenges A Handbook of Sustainable Building Engineering covers how to design engineer and monitor a building in a manner that minimises the emissions of greenhouse gases how to adapt the environment fabric and services of existing and new buildings to climate change how to improve the environment in and around buildings to provide better health comfort security and productivity and provides crucial expertise on monitoring the performance of buildings once they are occupied The authors explain the principles behind built environment engineering and offer practical guidance through international case studies

Heating Systems, Plant and Control Antony R. Day,Martin S. Ratcliffe,Keith Shepherd,2008-04-15 In many climates buildings are unable to provide comfort conditions for year round occupancy without the benefit of a heating system and most HVAC engineers will routinely be involved with issues concerning the design installation and performance of such systems Furthermore in temperate climates heating of buildings accounts for a large slice of annual carbon emissions The design of heating systems for maximum efficiency and minimum carbon emission is therefore now a matter of prime concern to all HVAC engineers The book provides an up to date review of the design engineering and control of modern heating systems Part A deals with heat generating plant While this concentrates on conventional and condensing boilers small scale combined heat and power systems and heat pumps are also discussed Part B deals with heat emitters pipe circuits and variable speed pumping hot water service optimum plant size and the vital issues of plant and system control including sequence control of multiple boilers Techniques for managing the energy use and running costs of heating systems are also discussed The authors have brought together over a half century of combined experience covering all aspects of the building services Industry to provide an up to date and comprehensive text that is both technically rigorous yet highly practical This makes the book equally relevant to the busy HVAC engineer looking for a handy practical reference the student looking to build on their basic knowledge or the researcher interested in key issues of heating system design and performance
