Conscience Consensus And The Development Of Doctrine:

Conscience, Consensus, and the Development of Doctrine John Henry Newman, 1992-04-01 Certainly if I am obliged to bring religion into after dinner toasts which indeed does not seem quite the thing I shall drink to the Pope if you please still to Conscience first and to the Pope afterwards John Henry Cardinal Newman In the works collected here including An Essay on the Development of Christian doctrine A Letter Addressed to His Grace the Duke of Norfolk and On Consulting the Faithful in Matters of Doctrine John Henry Cardinal Newman the great nineteenth century English theologian debunks a few Catholic myths Myth 1 The teaching of the Catholic Church on faith and morals has never changed and never will change Not so this brilliant scholar says For just as each era has new ways of understanding so too must the Catholic Church always change in its understanding of faith and morals Myth 2 Catholics have to do whatever the Pope says To the contrary according to Newman s famous quip on after dinner toasts the ultimate obligation of Catholics is to conscience not the Pope Myth 3 It s the bishops who teach the laity who follows Newman turns this notion upside down The laity he says are the source and final seal of the church s teaching thus the bishops must listen to them Never before collected in one volume these classic works reveal Newman at his eloquent best as he speaks to the religious crises of our time Conscience, consensus and the development of doctrine Saint John Henry Newman, 1992 God and the Secular Legal System Rafael Domingo, 2016-09-29 This timely book offers a theistic approach to secular legal systems and demonstrates that these systems are neither agnostic nor atheist Critical but succinct in its approach this book focuses on an extensive range of liberal legal approaches to religious and moral issues and subjects them to critical scrutiny from a secular perspective Expertly written by a leading scholar the author offers a rare combination of profundity of ideas and simplicity of expression It is a ringing defense of the theistic conception of secular legal systems and an uncompromising attack on the agnostic and atheist conception Between Magisterium and Marketplace Robert C. Saler, 2018-02-01 Robert C Saler argues for a fresh ecclesiology of the church as a diffusively spatialized event Within this framework Saler provides an ecclesiology that retains normativity while defining authorship and the constructive task of theology Establishing this claim through historical encounters between Thomas More and William Tyndale and John Henry Newman and Friedrich Schleiermacher Between Magisterium and Marketplace provides a theological genealogy of modern ecclesiology offering a humble yet hopeful view of the theological task in light of contemporary ecclesial opportunities The Voice of Conscience Mika Ojakangas, 2013-07-18 In Western thought it has been persistently assumed that in moral and political matters people should rely on the inner voice of conscience rather than on external authorities laws and regulations This volume investigates this concept examining the development of the Western politics of conscience from Socrates to the present and the formation of the Western ethico political subject The work opens with a discussion of the ambiguous role of conscience in politics contesting the claim that it is the best defense against totalitarianism It then look back at canonical authors from the Church

Fathers and Luther to Rousseau and Derrida to show how the experience of conscience constitutes the foundation of Western ethics and politics This unique work not only synthesizes philosophical and political insights but also pays attention to political theology to provide a compelling and innovative argument that the experience of conscience has always been at the core of the political Western tradition An engaging and accessible text it will appeal to political theorists and philosophers as well as theologians and those interested in the critique of the Western civilization

Development: Doctrines of development Stuart Corbridge, 2000 Brings together more than one hundred articles dealing with the discipline of development in all its diversity Key topics include the transformation of peasant economies agribusiness rural urban relations markets industrialization workers trade aid and structural adjustment A unique set in its comprehensiveness and diversity it also considers four key challenges for development theory and practice relating to capabilities ethics sustainability and regulation

History of Catholic Theological Ethics, A Keenan, James F., SJ, 2022 An introduction to Catholic theological ethics through the lens of its historical development from the beginning of the church until today

Tradition and Modernity David Marshall, 2013-05-20 Tradition and Modernity focuses on how Christians and Muslims connect their traditions to modernity looking especially at understandings of history changing patterns of authority and approaches to freedom The volume includes a selection of relevant texts from 19th and 20th century thinkers from John Henry Newman to Tariq Ramadan accompanied by illuminating commentaries

Re-visioning the Church Neil Ormerod, 2014 According to longstanding tradition theology can be thought of as faith seeking understanding Ecclesiology then seeks to understand the theological reality we call church Re Visioning the Church the outcome of nearly two decades of research and writing towards constructing a systematic historical ecclesiology applies a social scientific and historical outlook to the story of the emergence development and ongoing mission and ministry of the church Establishing a critical framework for understanding the structures of the church the work is a wide scale exploration of the religious cultural and social dimensions of what it means to be the church and what structures and ministries form the fundamental parts of ecclesial life in its relationship to the kingdom The heart of the project is a detailed account of the history development and change across the centuries of the church that takes the story from the apostolic band of witnesses to the dramatic global event of the Second Vatican Council

By Nature Equal John E. Coons, Patrick M. Brennan, 1999-03-29 What do we mean when we refer to people as being equal by nature In the first book devoted to human equality as a fact rather than as a social goal or a legal claim John Coons and Patrick Brennan argue that even if people possess unequal talents or are born into unequal circumstances all may still be equal if it is true that human nature provides them the same access to moral self perfection Plausibly in the authors view such access stems from the power of individuals to achieve goodness simply by doing the best they can to discover and perform correct actions If people enjoy the same degree of natural capacity to try all of us are offered the same opportunities for moral self fulfillment To believe this is to believe in equality This truly interdisciplinary work not only proposes the authors own rationale but also provides an effective deconstruction of several other contemporary theories of equality while it engages historical philosophical and Christian accounts as well Furthermore by divorcing the best from the brightest it shows how descriptive equality acquires practical significance Among other accomplishments By Nature Equal offers communitarians a core principle that has until now eluded them rescues human dignity from the hierarchy of intellect identifies racism in a new way and shows how justice can be freshly grounded in the conviction that every rational person has the same capacity for moral excellence
