Desire For Development Whiteness Gender And The Helping Imperative:

Desire for Development Barbara Heron, 2007-12-04 In Desire for Development Whiteness Gender and the Helping Imperative Barbara Heron draws on poststructuralist notions of subjectivity critical race and space theory feminism colonial and postcolonial studies and travel writing to trace colonial continuities in the post development recollections of white Canadian women who have worked in Africa Following the narrative arc of the development worker story from the decision to go overseas through the experiences abroad the return home and final reflections the book interweaves theory with the words of the participants to bring theory to life and to generate new understandings of whiteness and development work Heron reveals how the desire for development is about the making of self in terms that are highly raced classed and gendered and she exposes the moral core of this self and its seemingly paradoxical necessity to the Other The construction of white female subjectivity is thereby revealed as contingent on notions of goodness and Othering played out against and constituted by the backdrop of the NorthSouth binary in which Canada's national narrative situates us as the good guys of the world

Unsettling Whiteness Lucy Michael, Samantha Schulz, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2014 Unsettling Whiteness brings together an international collection that considers anew the politics practices and representations of whiteness at a time when nations worldwide continue to grapple with issues that are underwritten by whiteness

Place, Health, and Diversity Melissa D. Giesbrecht, Valorie A. Crooks, 2016-06-03 Although health equity and diversity focussed research has begun to gain momentum there is still a paucity of research from health geographers that explicitly explores how geographic factors such as place space scale community and location inform multiple axes of difference Such axes can include residential location age sex gender race ethnicity culture religion socio economic status marital status sexual orientation education level and immigration status Specifically focussing on Canada's rapidly changing society which is becoming increasingly pluralized and diverse this book examines the place health diversity intersection in this national context Health geographers are well positioned to offer a valuable contribution to diversity focussed research because place is inextricably linked to differential experiences of health For example access to health care and health promoting services and resources is largely influenced by where one is physically and socially situated within the web of diversity Furthermore applying geographic concepts like place in both the physical and social sense allows researchers to explore multiple axes of difference simultaneously Such geographic perspectives as presented in this book offer new insights into what makes diverse people in diverse places with access to diverse resources un healthy in different ways in Canada and beyond

Dilemmas of Difference Sarah A. Radcliffe, 2015-10-23 In Dilemmas of Difference Sarah A. Radcliffe explores the relationship of rural indigenous women in Ecuador to the development policies and actors that are ostensibly there to help ameliorate social and economic inequality Radcliffe finds that development policies's inability to recognize and reckon with the legacies of colonialism reinforces long standing social hierarchies thereby reproducing the very poverty and disempowerment they are there to solve This ineffectiveness results from failures to acknowledge the local population s diversity and a lack of accounting for the complex intersections of gender race ethnicity class and geography As a result projects often fail to match beneficiaries needs certain groups are made invisible and indigenous women become excluded from positions of authority Drawing from a mix of ethnographic fieldwork and postcolonial and social theory Radcliffe centers the perspectives of indigenous women to show how they craft practices and epistemologies that critique ineffective development methods inform their political agendas and shape their strategic interventions in public policy debates

The Development Dictionary @25 Aram Ziai,2020-05-21 Few books in the history of Development Studies have had an impact like The Development Dictionary A Guide to Knowledge as Power which was edited by Wolfgang Sachs and published by Zed Books in 1992 The Development Dictionary was crucial in establishing what has become known as the Post Development PD school This volume is devoted to the legacy of The Development Dictionary and to discussing Post Development This book originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

Entangled Bodies: Art, Identity and Intercorporeality Tammer El-Sheikh,2022-10-06 Organ transplantation is a medical innovation that has offered the potential to enhance and save lives since the first successful procedure in the 1950s Subsequent developments in scientific knowledge and advances in surgical techniques have allowed for more efficient and refined procurement minimal surgical complications and increased success rate However procedures such as organ transplantation raise questions about the nature of our relationship with our own bodies about our embodiment and personal and corporeal identity This book is comprised of academic essays personal reflections and creative writing from researchers and artists involved in an ongoing collaborative art science project about the experience and culture of heart transplantation The writings and reflections included discuss embodiment what it means to inhabit a body and define oneself in relation to it including struggles with identity formation set in both clinical and private spaces The uniqueness of this volume consists in the authors aim of connecting the specific experience of heart transplantation to the more widely shared experience of relating to the world and one another through the body s physical perceived and imagined boundaries Such boundaries and the commonly held beliefs in personal autonomy that are associated with them are a subject of ongoing philosophical and scientific debate What s more the resources of art and culture including popular culture literature historical and contemporary art are extremely useful in revising our views of what it means for the body s boundaries to be philosophically leaky Following the discussion initiated by contributor Margrit Shildrick this book contributes to the field of inquiry of the phenomenon of embodiment and inter corporeality the growing body of literature emerging from collaborative art science research projects and the wider area of disability studies This book will be of particular interest to those with personal scholarly and creative interests in the experience of transplantation or illness in general

Decolonial Sweden Michael McEachrane,Louis Faye,2024-12-16 Decolonial Sweden exposes the social and political relevance of European colonialism to Sweden and its place in the world It is a book that points to why and how Sweden is to be included in global decolonial struggles Sweden is often displayed as an ethnoracially homogenous country without any colonial history an open and tolerant human rights champion anti racist anti colonial and in solidarity with the Global South For over twenty years authors Michael McEachrane and Louis Faye have been challenging this account pointing to Sweden s involvement in colonial histories and legacies its racialized nationhood and embedded colonial structures This important new book reflects a decolonial turn in research emphasizing that coloniality is far from over and that challenging global injustices remains an unfinished and open ended process Chapters in the book consider the resistance of the Sami people to Swedish colonialism whether Sweden owes the Caribbean reparations for its colonization of Saint Barth lemy and involvement in the transatlantic trade Sweden s involvement in a colonial global economy and how white European identification is embedded in Swedish politics nation building and society Engaging and insightful Decolonial Sweden invites readers to reconsider Swedish attitudes toward race colonialism and international relations This book is an essential read for Post and Decolonial scholars and students of Critical Race Studies Critical Indigenous Studies Africana Studies International Relations Global Development and Political Science as well as for anyone interested in Sweden s place in the world Children's Rights and Sustainable Development Claire

Fenton-Glynn,2019-04-18 Considers how to implement children s rights in the twenty first century through a child rights based approach to sustainable development The Relationality of Race in Education Research Greg Vass,Jacinta

Maxwell,Sophie Rudolph,Kalervo N. Gulson,2017-11-01 This edited collection examines the ways in which the local and global are key to understanding race and racism in the intersectional context of contemporary education Analysing a broad range of examples it highlights how race and racism is a relational phenomenon that interconnects local national and global contexts and ideas The current educational climate is subject to global influences and the effects of conservative hyper nationalist politics and neoliberal economic rationalising in local settings that are creating new formations of race and racism While focused predominantly on Australia and southern world or settler colonial contexts the book aims to constructively contribute to broader emerging research and debates about race and education Through the adoption of a relational framing it draws the Australian context into the global conversation about race and racism in education in ways that challenge and test current understandings of the operation of race and racism in contemporary social and educational spaces Importantly it also pushes debates about race and racism in education and research to the foreground in Australia where such debates are typically dismissed or cursorily engaged The book will guide readers as they navigate issues of race in education research and practice and its chapters will serve as provocations designed to assist in critically understanding this challenging field It reaches beyond education scholarship as concerns to do with race remain intertwined with wider social justice issues such as access to housing health social economic mobility and political representation Routledge Handbook of Higher
