Clubbed To Death A Robert Amiss Mystery Robert Amiss Mysteries:

Clubbed To Death Ruth Dudley Edwards, 2011-05-27 Robert Amiss is persuaded by his friend Detective Sergeant Pooley of the CID to take a job as a waiter in Featherstonehaugh's pronounced Fanshaw's a gentlemen's club in St James London. The club secretary has allegedly jumped to his death from the gallery of this imposing building. Against most of the evidence Pooley believes he was murdered. Amiss finds himself in a bizarre caricature of a club run by and for debauched geriatrics with skeletons rattling in every cupboard. Why are there so few members? How are they financed? Will Amiss keep his job despite the enmity of the ferocious snuff-covered Colonel Fagg? More importantly will he solve the crime before someone else dies.

Killing the Emperors Ruth Dudley Edwards, 2012-09 Lady Jack Troutbeck is missing. So too is Sir Henry Fortune, celebrity curator and his partner in love and money-louche art dealer Jason Pringle. Panic begins in the London art world when no one can locate Anastasia Holliday, sensational abject artist Jake Thorogood, the critic who catapulted her into stardom, or Dr Hortense Wilde, notorious for having influenced generations of art students to despise craftsmanship. Spotting that the victims' common link is that their careers blossomed when they wholeheartedly embraced newly fashionable conceptual art, there is media hysteria. Are they hostages? If so, why? Ransom? Revenge? What bewilders the police and her friends is that Baroness Troutbeck is a standard bearer of conservative values in education and art who recently publicly described admirers of conceptual art as knaves and fools. Can Troutbeck's friends rescue her before her own worst fantasies are turned into reality?

Publish and be Murdered Ruth Dudley Edwards, 2012-05-01 Robert Amiss, lapsed civil servant, is approached by Lord Papworth, owner of the Wrangler, to step in as business manager for the august journal and do something about its steady drain on his lordship's finances. The magazine's editor Willie Lambie Crump and his staff are firmly mired in the 1950s; technologically speaking, ideologically the journal has always been strongly conservative. Prodded by Baroness Jack Troutbeck, his rather menacing guardian angel, Amiss takes on the job and soon has his hands full trying to further the journal's progress toward the latter half of the 20th century without unduly upsetting the staff. When the political editor Henry Potbury is found dead under odd circumstances and Crump is murdered, Amiss discovers once again that trying to keep a job can be a lethal occupation.
