Cities Change and Conflict was one of the first texts to embrace the perspective of political economy as its main explanatory framework and then complement it with the rich contributions of human ecology as well as perspectives derived from critical approaches to social theory Although its primary focus is on North American cities the book contains several chapters on cities in other parts of the world including the Global North and Global South It provides both historical and contemporary accounts of the impact of globalization on urban development and urban institutions This sixth edition features a new groundbreaking chapter on the relationship between the physical environment and human settlements including the urban rural nexus This edition also expands and updates coverage of recent trends such as the establishment and evolution of gay neighborhoods the suburbanization of immigrant groups the situation of the immigrant youth known as Dreamers the reverse migration of Blacks from the North to the South and the proliferation of exurban communities Beyond examining the dynamics that shape the form and functionality of cities the text surveys the experience of urban life among different social groups including a new perspective on intersectionality as it affects people's experiences in cities It illuminates the workings of the urban economy local and federal governments and the criminal justice system while addressing policy debates and decisions that affect almost every aspect of urbanization and urban life

Seeing Cities Change Jerome Krase, 2016-04-01 Cities have always been dynamic social environments for visual and otherwise symbolic competition between the groups who live and work within them In contemporary urban areas all sorts of diversity are simultaneously increased and concentrated chief amongst them in recent years being the ethnic and racial transformation produced by migration and the gentrification of once socially marginal areas of the city Seeing Cities Change demonstrates the utility of a visual approach and the study of ordinary streetscapes to document and analyze how the built environment reflects the changing cultural and class identities of neighborhood residents Discussing the manner in which these changes relate to issues of local and national identities and multiculturalism it presents studies of various cities on both sides of the Atlantic to show how global forces and the competition between urban residents in contested terrains is changing the faces of cities around the globe Blending together a variety of sources from scholarly and mass media this engaging volume focuses on the importance of seeing and in its consideration of questions of migration ethnicity diversity community identity class and culture will appeal to sociologists anthropologists and geographers with interests in visual methods and urban spaces
