

Department of Environment and Natural Resources

COMPETENCY-BASED MANUAL

Message

Human resource is the starting point and ongoing foundation of a successful organization. We cannot perform our Department's mission, vision, and strategies without our workforce. They are the prime movers behind our plans, programs, and projects. Thus, over the years, the DENR has been dedicated to developing its human resources, commensurate with the dynamic needs of the agency and the public.

With the guidance of the Civil Service Commission, the DENR has widened the scope of human resource management to include more competency-based practices for process and system improvements, as well as the development of organizational capabilities. This ensures that our people are provided with the right competencies and capacity-building interventions to cultivate excellence in implementing our mandate on the conservation, management, development, and proper use of our country's environment and natural resources. Through this, our employees will benefit from a clear blueprint of what their role is in the achievement of our developmental and organizational goals.

The comprehensive and systematic process undertaken in the enhancement of the 2022 DENR Competency-Based System (CBS) Manuals amplifies our understanding and involvement in the implementation of the competency-based system. It will help us improve organizational capability and performance by making our workforce more agile, responsive, adoptive, high performing, competent, and engaged.

included within the BPC series is that translation is as fundamental to biblical material as performance both in its history as well as in its research approaches Translation in this sense is more than a transferal of meaning from one linguistic system to another Bible translation highlights innovative connections and conceptions to biblical texts in their promulgation reception and ever changing nature A predominant theory used throughout this book is social semiotic multimodality This communication theory informs an approach to translation that expands beyond words to other semiotic resources Sign Language embodied performance social media theater materiality and many other types of multimodal communications inform translation It is important to understand that the Bible is a translated experience Translation reflects the various ways in which the Bible has been mediated and appropriated throughout history It follows therefore that Bible translation as a

Contributors What Is New about Reading the Bible with New Eyes Introduction Reading the Bible is essential to the lives of Christians and the shaping of their identity Regardless of the many differences among Christian denominations and theological trends the Bible is commonly considered by Christians as the Word of God and is the most important way to acquaint the will of God This is even more true to Christians with a Confucian background taught to respect the classics and teachings Nevertheless reading the Bible has never been neutral It involves hermeneutic controversies of different theological trends and is subjected to the ideological positions and interests of its interpreters and readers Traditional anthropocentric androcentric and white oriented interpretations of the Bible have not only misled the perception of biblical truth but also created many oppressive frames such as discrimination and persecution which cause suffering How to read the Bible and read it properly is thus crucial and imperative Reading the Bible with New Eyes is an ecumenical theological endeavor and an attempt to help churches and individual Christians in their struggle for making the Bible a liberating message of the Christian God who was revealed through the sacrificial death and resurrection of Jesus Christ The concept of

New Eyes thus is a critical view through which to examine the existing interpretations of the Bible addressing in particular those who interpret the Bible whether intentionally or non intentionally with dominant and privileged perspectives or for the purpose of maintaining the status quo For the Lord your God is God of gods and Lord of lords the great God mighty and awesome who shows no partiality and accepts no bribes He defends the cause of the fatherless and the widow and loves the foreigner residing among you giving them food and clothing And you are to love those who are foreigners for you yourselves were foreigners in Egypt Deut 10 17 19 But because of his great love for us God who is rich in mercy made us alive with Christ even when we were dead in transgressions it is by grace you have been saved And God raised us up with Christ and seated us with him in the heavenly realms in Christ Jesus Eph 2 4 6 The newness of the new eyes therefore is essentially seeking to be authentic and original God's Words need to be interpreted in God's nature and intention Theological confession to perceive the nature and intention of God thus is prior to the literary meaning of the biblical texts The current publication of What Is New about Reading the Bible with New Eyes is an outcome of an international theological consultation jointly held in December 2019 by the following organizations The Evangelism Committee of the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan Tainan Theological College and Seminary Tainan Theological College Foundation Taiwan Church Press Grace Foundation the Asian Theological Academy and the Academy for Contextual Theologies in Taiwan This consultation was on the one hand to respond to the ecumenical theological efforts to transform theological reflections from traditional Western domination and on the other hand to enhance a two decade long mission program of Reading the Bible with New Eyes of the Presbyterian Church in Taiwan by a theological revisit to the characteristic of newness in Taiwan's contexts The content of this book is divided into three parts with an appendix the first part focuses on theological discourse on biblical hermeneutics and the role of contextuality the second part is reflections from the contexts of Taiwan the third part provides biblical illustrations finally for the sake of memory we put a brief introduction of the contributors and program schedule of the consultation in the appendix For this book to be published I have to acknowledge and give my thanks to all the contributors and the joint hosts of the consultation for their cooperation and solidarity and the editorial board members particularly Jomei Tsai who has devoted much energy and time to proofread the whole book The publishing sector of Taiwan Church Press who helped with cover design and all the publishing work is also greatly appreciated By Rev Dr Huang Po Ho Director Academy for Contextual Theologies in Taiwan May 20 2020

Reading the Bible across Contexts Esa J. Autero, 2016-06-10 In Reading the Bible Across Contexts Esa Autero offers a fresh perspective on Luke's poverty texts In addition to an historical reading he conducted an empirical investigation of two Latin American Bible reading groups one poor and the other affluent to shed light on Luke's poverty texts The interaction between historical reading and present day readings demonstrates the impact of socio economic status on biblical hermeneutics and sheds new light on Luke's views on wealth and poverty At the same time Esa Autero critically examines liberation theologian's claim that poor are privileged biblical interpreters
