all his money he had to pawn his clothes and beg friends for loans to pay his hotel bill and get back to Russia One of his begging letters went to a magazine editor asking for an advance on yet another unwritten novel which he described as Crime and Punishment One of the supreme masterpieces of world literature Crime and Punishment catapulted Dostoyevsky to the forefront of Russian writers and into the ranks of the world's greatest novelists Drawing upon experiences from his own prison days the author recounts in feverish compelling tones the story of Raskolnikov an impoverished student tormented by his own nihilism and the struggle between good and evil Believing that he is above the law and convinced that humanitarian ends justify vile means he brutally murders an old woman a pawnbroker whom he regards as stupid ailing greedy good for nothing Overwhelmed afterwards by feelings of guilt and terror Raskolnikov confesses to the crime and goes to prison There he realizes that happiness and redemption can only be achieved through suffering Infused with forceful religious social and philosophical elements the novel was an immediate success
