Cloud Optics Alexander A. Kokhanovsky, 2011-03-07 Clouds affect the climate of the Earth and they are an important factor in the weather. Therefore their radiative properties must be understood in great detail. This book summarizes current knowledge on cloud optical properties for example their ability to absorb, transmit and reflect light which depends on the clouds geometrical and microphysical characteristics such as sizes of droplets and crystals, their shapes and structures. In addition problems related to the image transfer through clouds and cloud remote sensing are addressed in this book in great detail. This book can be an important source of information on theoretical cloud optics for cloud physicists, meteorologists and optical engineers. All basic ideas of optics as related to scattering of light in clouds e.g. Mie theory and radiative transfer are considered in a self-consistent way. Consequently the book can also be a useful textbook to newcomers to the field. Cloud Optics Alexander A. Springer Series in Light Scattering Alexander Kokhanovsky, 2022-09-13 This book is aimed at description of recent progress in studies of multiple and single light scattering in turbid media. Light scattering and radiative transfer research community will greatly benefit from the publication of this book. Foundations of Atmospheric Remote Sensing Dmitry Efremenko, Alexander Kokhanovsky, 2021-05-18 Theoretical foundations of atmospheric remote sensing are electromagnetic theory, radiative transfer and inversion theory. This book provides an overview of these topics in a common context, compile the results of recent research as well as fill the gaps where needed. The following aspects are covered: principles of remote sensing, the atmospheric physics foundations of the radiative transfer theory, electromagnetic absorption, scattering and propagation, review of computational techniques in radiative transfer, retrieval techniques as well as regularization principles of inversion theory. As such the book provides a valuable resource for those who work with remote sensing data and want to get a broad view of theoretical foundations of atmospheric remote sensing. The book will be also useful for students and researchers working in such diverse fields like inverse problems, atmospheric physics, electromagnetic theory and radiative transfer. Remote Sensing of Aerosols, Clouds, and Precipitation Tanvir Islam, Yongxiang Hu, Alexander A. Kokhanovsky, Jun Wang, 2017-10-18 Remote Sensing of Aerosols, Clouds and Precipitation compiles recent advances in aerosol

cloud and precipitation remote sensing from new satellite observations The book examines a wide range of measurements from microwave both active and passive visible and infrared portions of the spectrum Contributors are experts conducting state of the art research in atmospheric remote sensing using space airborne and ground based datasets focusing on supporting earth observation satellite missions for aerosol cloud and precipitation studies A handy reference for scientists working in remote sensing earth science electromagnetics climate physics and space engineering Valuable for operational forecasters meteorologists geospatial experts modelers and policymakers alike Presents new approaches in the field along with further research opportunities based on the latest satellite data Focuses on how remote sensing systems can be designed developed to solve outstanding problems in earth and atmospheric sciences Edited by a dynamic team of editors with a mixture of highly skilled and qualified authors offering world leading expertise in the field

Microphysics of Clouds and Precipitation H.R. Pruppacher, J.D. Klett, 1996-12-31 Cloud physics has achieved such a voluminous literature over the past few decades that a significant quantitative study of the entire field would prove unwieldy This book concentrates on one major aspect cloud microphysics which involves the processes that lead to the formation of individual cloud and precipitation particles Common practice has shown that one may distinguish among the following additional major aspects cloud dynamics which is concerned with the physics responsible for the macroscopic features of clouds cloud electricity which deals with the electrical structure of clouds and the electrification processes of cloud and precipitation particles and cloud optics and radar meteorology which describe the effects of electromagnetic waves interacting with clouds and precipitation Another field intimately related to cloud physics is atmospheric chemistry which involves the chemical composition of the atmosphere and the life cycle and characteristics of its gaseous and particulate constituents In view of the natural interdependence of the various aspects of cloud physics the subject of microphysics cannot be discussed very meaningfully out of context Therefore we have found it necessary to touch briefly upon a few simple and basic concepts of cloud dynamics and thermodynamics and to provide an account of the major characteristics of atmospheric aerosol particles We have also included a separate chapter on some of the effects of electric fields and charges on the precipitation forming processes

Applications of Seasonal Climate Forecasting in Agricultural and Natural Ecosystems Graeme L. Hammer, Neville Nicholls, Christopher Mitchell, 2013-03-09 Climate variability has major impacts in many parts of the world including Australia Developments in understanding of the El Niño Southern Oscillation Phenomenon have introduced some skill in seasonal to inter annual climate forecasting Can this skill be harnessed to advantage Or do we just continue to observe these impacts How does a decision maker managing an agricultural or natural ecosystem modify decisions in response to a skillful but imprecise seasonal climate forecast Using Australian experience as a basis this book focuses on these questions in pursuing means to better manage climate risks The state of the science in climate forecasting is reviewed before considering detailed examples of applications to farm scale agricultural decisions such as management of cropping and grazing systems regional and national scale agricultural decisions such as commodity trading and government policy and natural systems such as water resources pests and diseases and natural fauna Many of the examples highlight the participatory and inter disciplinary approach required among decision makers resource systems scientists analysts and climate scientists to bring about the effective applications The experiences discussed provide valuable insights beyond the geographical and disciplinary focus of this book The book is ideally suited to professionals and postgraduate students in ecology agricultural climatology environmental planning and climate science
