Hall, Myrtle Chuck-A-Sang, 2007 The CARICOM Single Market and Economy CSME has for years been touted as the most critical pillar in Caribbean regional integration Yet for years the implementation of the CSME stalled due to the absence of a common view as to its feasibility the speed of its implementation the institutional capacity programming for public education and ultimately its benefits In this work a special edition of the Integrationist and put together by the UWI CARICOM project the CSME is explained in all its dimensions The contents cover the background to the establishment of the CSME and perspectives on its implementation The main provisions and expected benefits of the Single Market are also presented along with the strategic framework and efforts at resource mobilisation to make the CSME a reality The importance of the Caribbean Court of Justice to the effective functioning of the CSME is also outlined The book concludes with a call to the member states for a unity in both understanding and action in the pursuit of integration not as choice but rather as necessity The work is complemented by the inclusion of several appendices notably the original 1989 Grand Anse Declaration the 2005 PetroCaribe Agreement as well as an indicative plan of action by priorities and an outline of major technical assistance resource gaps The BRICS-Lawyers' Guide to Global Cooperation Rostam J. Andrew Guzman, Berkeley Law School, US. This book presents a detailed study of the interface between regional integration and competition policies of selected regional trade agreements, RTAs, and the potential of regional competition laws to help developing countries achieve their development goals. The book provides insights on the regional integration experiences in developing countries, their potential for development, and the role of competition law and policy in the process. Moreover, the book emphasizes the development dimension both of regional competition policies and of competition law. This timely book delivers concrete proposals that will help to unleash the potential of regional integration and regional competition policies and also help developing countries to fully enjoy the benefits deriving from a regional market. The International Dimension of EU Competition Law and Policy Anestis S. Papadopoulos, 2010-10-28 Modern competition law was first employed by countries over one hundred years ago in order to address issues relating to restrictions of trade at the national level. Recent international economic integration has weakened the distinction between the domestic and the international in several fields of economic activity, and consequently the laws which regulate such activity. Competition law included. Several attempts to address the paradox of adopting national competition rules to address international issues have been made at the international, regional, and lately bilateral levels. This book discusses the international dimension of EU competition law and examines the position taken by the EU in four distinct categories of international agreements which are devoted to competition or include competition provisions. In particular, it analyses the EU's position with regard to bilateral enforcement cooperation agreements, bilateral free trade agreements, plurilateral regional agreements, and the long negotiations for the adoption of a multilateral competition regime.
