

Having a Calm Birth

Using the meditations in the birth room

womb breathing

Use Womb Breathing throughout the birth. Try to use it during and between surges. You may or may not want to play the audioguide.

Partners, remind the birthing person to return to Womb Breathing if they lose contact with their breath during contractions.

Great for use during cesarean birth.

practice of opening

Great to use in early labor for extra rest! If you're birthing in the hospital, try listening after you get settled in the room.

Wonderful after an epidural is in place to return to awareness with your baby. Can also be used in preparation for cesarean.

giving & receiving

More for the partner than birthing person during labor! A great way for partner to stay connected; breathing healing and relief to the birth-giver. Pull this out if baby or birthing person is in distress.

If trauma comes up, this can be a good practice for the birth-giver to use.
