Democratic Education In Practice Inside The Mission Hill School Practitioner Inquiry:

Democratic Education in Practice Matthew Knoester, 2012-12-23 The Mission Hill School founded by MacArthur Award winner Deborah Meier and colleagues in 1997 is a small public school that has rethought almost everything about the process of teaching and learning Beyond richly describing and evaluating this high achieving school the author argues that democratic education is increasingly difficult in this era of testing and standardization and that a school such as Mission Hill must be continually thoughtful innovative and courageous in counteracting systemic inequality This in depth examination is essential reading for anyone interested in how to better understand seemingly intractable problems related to urban public education in the United States Book Features An exemplary model of democratic education that shows the inner workings of a largely teacher governed school a rare example of an urban school implementing Dewey influenced progressive pedagogy in depth descriptions of an anti racist and culturally relevant pedagogy and curriculum a close examination of successful practices including shared decision making intensive problem solving and looking at student work Democratic Education in Practice Matthew Knoester, 2015-04-25 The Mission Hill School founded by MacArthur Award winner Deborah Meier and colleagues in 1997 is a small public school that has rethought almost everything about the process of teaching and learning Beyond richly describing and evaluating this high achieving school the author argues that democratic education is increasingly difficult in this era of testing and standardization and that a school such as Mission Hill must be continually thoughtful innovative and courageous in counteracting systemic inequality This in depth examination is essential reading for anyone interested in how to better understand seemingly intractable problems related to urban public education in the United States Book Features An exemplary model of democratic education that shows the inner workings of a largely teacher governed school A rare example of an urban school implementing Dewey influenced progressive pedagogy In depth descriptions of an anti racist and culturally relevant pedagogy and curriculum A close examination of successful practices including shared decision making intensive problem solving and looking at student work Matthew Knoester is a National Board Certified Teacher and former teacher at the Mission Hill School in Boston He received his Ph D in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of Wisconsin Madison and is currently Assistant Professor of Education at the University of Evansville Matthew Knoester has done us an enormous favor by showing us in detail what could be one example of how schools can be the building blocks for democracy recreating community for all to taste feel hear and see From the Foreword by Deborah W Meier This is exactly the kind of book that is so necessary at this time Schools can be respectful responsive and caring places Matthew Knoester gives us a detailed picture of such a school If more people would read books such as this the national debate on education would be all the better for it Michael W Apple John Bascom Professor of Curriculum and Instruction and Educational Policy Studies University of Wisconsin Madison Knoester s account of the Mission Hill School captures the habits of mind needed if public schools are to be truly democratic in spirit and in practice centered on the children and as Deborah Meier so powerfully advocates protected from those policies and social forces that accept and perpetuate disengagement and inequality in our children's education Linda McSpadden McNeil Professor of Education Rice University author of Contradictions of School Reform To those who have never seen the Mission Hill School in Boston it may sound like a magical place The good news is that it is real and Knoester shows us through his compelling narrative how and why they have been able to achieve so much For educators students and parents this book will be a source of inspiration At a time when our policymakers and many so called reformers are actively undermining support for public education this important book will serve as a reminder that we can do a much better job at educating all children Pedro Noguera Executive Director Metropolitan Center for Urban Education New York University Impactful Practitioner Inquiry Sue Nichols, Phil Cormack, 2017 How does practitioner inquiry impact education Examining the experiences of practitioners who have participated in inquiry projects the authors present ways in which this work has enabled educators to be positive change agents They reveal the difference that practitioner inquiry has made in their professional practice their understanding of student learning their content area knowledge and their career trajectories Attesting to long lasting changes in ways that these educators approach professional challenges the authors identify the ripple effect of these changes through school communities and beyond Impactful Practitioner Inquiry includes in depth case studies as well as chapters specifically focused on the design and analysis aspects of inquiry Book Features An examination of how practitioner inquiry impacts professional practice school culture and career trajectories The use of complexity and network theories to understand how practitioner inquiry is able to create its ripple effect Testimonies from educators with up to 10 years experience as inquirers Practices from early childhood and school settings classroom and leadership roles general education and specialist settings This in depth reflective analysis will be invaluable to action researchers and school university collaborations in designing inquiries that positively impact student lives and learning JoBeth Allen professor emerita University of Georgia Incorporating extended examples helpful frameworks and critical analysis this will be a must have book for teacher researchers and educational professional learning communities internationally Barbara Comber research professor University of South Australia and Queensland University of Technology Promising Pedagogies for Teacher Inquiry and Practice Katherine Crawford-Garrett, Damon R. Carbajal, Susan L. Lytle, Marilyn Cochran-Smith, 2023 Drawing on frameworks of teacher research and critical literacy this volume documents the experiences of educators in New Mexico who participate in Teaching Out Loud an intergenerational professional development program that focuses on the creation and implementation of imaginative critical curriculum with historically marginalized students This text offers a set of conceptual tools and pedagogical practices for teacher educators and researchers seeking to advance teacher learning and leadership through the use of critical study groups rather than the more scripted professional development approaches that dominate mainstream educational settings Specifically this book uses the voices of a diverse set of teachers to demonstrate the role of teacher inquiry in shifting curriculum and advancing equity even when faced with formidable circumstances like a global pandemic The authors examine how participation in Teaching Out Loud helped teachers foster social emotional learning foreground issues of race and identity build and sustain community promote self care and center play within and against challenging local and global contexts Book Features Highlights the voices of teachers representing a range of diverse perspectives and experience levels Explains classroom practices and approaches in detail Examines the challenges posed by the COVID 19 pandemic Explicitly addresses critical issues like race and social justice Focuses on the American Southwest A Critical Inquiry Framework for K-12 Teachers JoBeth Allen,Lois Alexander,2015-04-25 This dynamic book provides powerful ideas to guide pedagogy and a curriculum model for helping students connect with issues in their lives while meeting standards Vivid portraits of K12 classrooms illustrate how teachers used a human rights framework to engage students in critical inquiry of relevant social issues such as immigration rights religious tolerance racial equality countering the effects of poverty and respect for people with disabilities The book shows how a group of teachers worked together to develop a critical content framework using the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child Chapters highlight lively classroom and community action projects

Making Space for Active Learning Anne C. Martin,Ellen Schwartz,2015-04-28 This powerful collection will inspire new and veteran teachers to make space for children s interests for teaching as relational and intellectual work and for new insights and ideas The authors introduce the Prospect Center s Descriptive Review of Practice a collaborative inquiry process that provides an opportunity for teachers to examine their practice and gain new perspectives from other participants The contributors to this volume respond to each child s modes of thinking as they develop curriculum or find wiggle room in curricula they are given By demonstrating how it is possible to pursue careful knowledge of craft this book offers ways of teaching that allow for continuing growth and change Book Features An inquiry methodology that assists teachers to reflect on the classroom and develop curriculum that responds to children s interests and needs Specific examples of a variety of sources teachers can draw on and think about to improve practice A method of data collection that can inform practice while allowing for the unevenness messiness and essential humanness of teaching and learning Making Space for Active Learning is a collection that stands alone and gets to the heart of what we mean by learning and teaching Each contribution reminded me of how much I miss being in the classroom and how much we re missing in current so called school reform discourse Keep this book handy A chapter at a time will restore some needed sanity about what s important Deborah Meier author and education activist This book is a moving and powerful collection of teachers work that holds the possibility of inspiring and changing new teachers practice Kathy Schultz Dean and Professor School of Education Mills College This book will add significantly to the expanding and important literature about The Prospect Processes which were developed over many years at the Prospect School and Center in Vermont The chapters all by experienced educators profit from the back and forth between inquiry and stories of classroom life each informing the other Brenda S Engel associate professor retired Lesley University Autobiography on the Spectrum Beth A. Myers, 2019-05-24 Autobiography on the Spectrum challenges prevailing notions about autism by offering a critically unconventional perspective the viewpoint of adolescents who are themselves on the spectrum Examining a year long inquiry Myers highlights the autobiographical works of the students through writing photography poetry art and more She argues that autistic youth are not being accurately depicted in current research not because they are unable to represent their own experiences but because their experiences are not always valued In contrast this book explores how autistic youth can and do represent themselves and shows educators how to create a space for the voices of these students Offering a deep look into a world that is rarely seen Autobiography on the Spectrum is a critical resource for teacher preparation and professional learning in any field that interacts with individuals with autism or other disabilities A powerful counternarrative to deficit perspectives that characterize autism in terms of deficiency and disease Curt Dudley Marling professor emeritus Boston College This books needs to be in the hands of teachers everywhere Douglas Biklen dean emeritus Syracuse University School of Education and co producer of Academy Award nominated documentary Autism is a World This important book illustrates many ways educators can expand how they listen to autistic children and adolescents Paula Kluth consultant author and independent scholar Democratic Habits in the Art Classroom Elizabeth Sutton, 2023 This volume explores the ways in which practicing K 12 art educators can engage with students to develop democratic habits The contributors present case studies based on action research conducted in their own classrooms as part of their master s in arts education The text is divided into three sections that correspond to habits the author teachers cultivated in their classroom choice voice and caring for community Each author presents real world examples for development of not only art skills but also ways of being and interacting that allow humans to contribute meaningfully to the world Readers will hear from art educators who strive to teach their students ownership and empowerment through problem solving independence and responsibility This timely book shows how art education is a bastion of freedom in public education where students and teachers can think and act collaboratively and critically Book Features Offers examples of transformative teaching that give students voice choice and opportunities to care for community Provides theory as well as replicable models teachers can use Addresses the difficulty of balancing student and teacher needs within the politically embattled field of education Shares the voices of art educators in Midwest classrooms ranging from elementary to high school rural to urban communities Contributors Elizabeth Bloomberg Jeffery Rufus Byrd Ashley Cardamone Kathryn Christensen Michelle Cox Jodi Fenton Samantha Goss Maddison Maddock Wendy Miller Sandra Nyberg Lauren Roush Elizabeth Sutton and Heather Walker Repositioning Educational Leadership James H. Lytle, Susan L. Lytle, Michael C. Johanek, Kathy J. Rho, 2018-09-07 This book will demonstrate that when leaders pose previously unnamed problems and find ways to bring together working groups of students principals central office administrators school faculties parents and or members of the community for joint inquiry it is more likely that new effective solutions can be found through participatory processes of rethinking educational practices categories policies and expectations The argument is that when school district and other educational leaders position themselves as inquirers their leadership can illuminate and improve many aspects of institutional life and create intellectually demanding and rich learning environments for both adults and children The First Year of Teaching Jabari Mahiri, Sarah Warshauer

Freedman, 2014-05-09 For first year teachers entering the nation's urban schools the task of establishing a strong and successful practice is often extremely challenging In this compelling look at first year teachers practice in urban schools editors Jabari Mahiri and Sarah Warshauer Freedman demonstrate how a program of systematic classroom research by teachers themselves enables them to effectively target instruction and improve their own practice The book organizes the teachers research into three broad areas corresponding to issues the new teachers identified as the most challenging The First Year of Teaching offers an array of classroom scenarios that will spark in depth discussions in teacher preparation classes and professional development workshops particularly in the context of problem based problem posing pedagogies
