Dattilio, 2017-02-13 Featuring case presentations by many of the most distinguished practitioners of couple and family therapy this volume brings to life the full spectrum of approaches in the field. The cases illustrate the principles and techniques of the respective approaches and allow the reader to listen in on highly skilled therapists at work. Editor Frank Dattilio comments on each case with a focus on ways to integrate systemic and cognitive behavioral approaches. He suggests ways that cognitive principles might usefully be called upon at specific points. Responses from contributors consider the benefits of Dattilio's suggestions and elucidate each practitioner's decision making process. An Introduction to Marriage and Family Therapy Joseph L. Wetchler, Lorna L. Hecker, 2014-08-27 Now in its second edition this text introduces readers to the rich history and practice of Marriage and Family Therapy with 32 professionals from across the US presenting their knowledge in their areas of expertise. This blend of approaches and styles gives this text a unique voice and makes it a comprehensive resource for graduate students taking their first course in Marriage and Family Therapy. The book is divided into three sections. Part 1 focuses on the components on which 21st century family therapy is based and summarizes the most recent changes made to not only therapeutic interventions but to the very concept of family. Part 2 presents an overview of the 7 major theoretical models of the field: structural, strategic, Milan, social constructionist, experiential, transgenerational, and cognitive behavioral family therapy. Each chapter in this section focuses on the founder of the theory, its theoretical tenants, and its key techniques. Shows how the model focuses on diversity. Presents the research that supports the approach. Part 3 addresses specific treatment areas that are common to marriage and family therapists such as sex therapy, pre marital therapy, research and ethics, and legal issues. As an introduction to the field of Marriage and Family Therapy this volume stands above the rest. Not only will readers gain an understanding of the rich history of the field and its techniques but they will also see a complete picture of the context in which families are embedded such as gender, culture, spirituality, and sexual orientation. This knowledge is the key to understanding what differentiates Marriage and Family Therapy from individual psychotherapy. Glossaries, case studies, tables, figures, and appendices appear generously throughout the text to present this information and give students a thorough overview to prepare them for their professional lives.

Adult Development, Therapy, and Culture Gerald D. Young,2013-06-29 This volume proposes a theoretical integration of several major streams in contemporary psychological theory about adult development and therapy It adopts the perspective that there are steps in development throughout the adult period and that they are characterized by a union of the cognitive and affective the self and the other and idea with idea in second order collective abstractions That is they are at once postformal in terms of Piaget s theory sociocultural in terms ofVygotsky s theory and postmodern with the latter perspective providing an integrating theme The affirmative multivoiced contextual relational other sensitive side of postmodernism is emphasized. Levinas's philosophy of responsibility for the other is seen as congruent with this ethos. The neopietist model of development on which the current approach is based proposes that the last stage in development concerns collective intelligence or postmodern postformal thought. Kegan (1994) has attempted independently to describe adult development from the same perspective. His work on the development of the postmodern mind of the adult is groundbreaking and impressive in its depth. However, I analyze the limitations as well as the contributions of his approach under scoring the advantages of my particular model. The Art of Narrative Psychiatry SuEllen Hamkins, 2013-10-03.
