De Strijd Om Den Atlantischen Oceaen:

Epics and Romances of the Middle Ages Wilhelm Wagner, 2012-01-01 Legend is not history but in legend we find embodied historical truths manners and customs of past ages beliefs and superstitions otherwise long forgotten of which history itself takes no account Legend has preserved for us maybe in romantic dress maybe under altered names and circumstances stirring pictures of heroes and heroines who once have lived and suffered fought and conquered or have faced death with trustful courage pictures too of men of equal prowess as strong in evil as in might who victorious for a time have yet ever met a stronger power than theirs stronger in virtue stronger in might As we write the shadowy forms of terrific Alboin raising aloft his goblet fashioned from royal skull the noble Siegfried with his loved Chriemhild and the jealous Brunhild brave King Dietrich the gentle patient Gudrun and her beauteous mother Hilde all flit before the mind framing themselves into a vivid picture such as must have lived in the imagination of our early forefathers stirring them on to noble actions restraining them from evil working Thus has good in all ages fought against ill and all races of men have sung its victory in strains but slightly varying And so will it ever fight no matter how our more elaborate ideas of what is good or evil may vary the nation always glorifies the great and noble according to its own unreasoning reason This volume contains the principal hero lays of the six great epic cycles of the Teutonic Middle Ages and to them we have added the great mythical Carolingian cycle which centred round the persons of Charlemagne and his heroes The latter is mostly of Romance origin and was composed by court troubadours for the delight of the royal palace wherefore it never became the true inheritance of the masses Beside these French poems stand the Breton ones of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table which later on took up the legend of the Holy Grail into their very heart and at this period found their way to Germany where they met with a more romantic and poetic treatment at the hands of the court minnesingers But these foreign importations never found a true home amongst the German people they never became popular The native hero lays on the other hand even though less beautiful in conception and in form lived on through centuries and even to this day exist though disguised and degraded For in the market places of Germany and at the few old English fairs that yet remain the pedlar bookseller gives in exchange for the farthing piece printed versions of many of these old legendary tales Siegfried s battle with the Dragon the Rose garden Alberic and Elbegast s adventures and other wondrous histories of Teutonic epical origin But this literature is fast dying out if indeed it may not by this time be said to be already dead In Iceland however and in the Faroe Isles tradition still holds her throne unconquered She yet sings to the listening greybeards to the men and women and to the growing youth of Odin and his mighty rule of H nir and the wicked Loki of Thor and Frey and Freya Queen of Heaven of the Fenris wolf and the Midgard serpent In the long winter nights she still tells of bold Sigurd s Siegfried deeds and battles of Gudrun s faithful love and dumb grief beside the body of her lord of Gunnar s marvellous harping in the garden of snakes and the listeners hold it all in their memory that they may sing and tell it to their children and their children s children And so do they cherish the time old legends of their fathers that the ardent youth may still be heard to adjure his bride to love him with the love of Gudrun the master revile his dishonest workmen as false as Regin the evil dwarf and the old men to shake their heads and say of the daring lad that he is a true descendant of the Wolsings At the dance Sigurd songs are yet sung at Christmastide a grotesque Fafnir takes his part in the mummary Thus old German tradition in her wane has found an asylum perhaps a last resting place in the far North driven from their first home by strangers the myths of Greece and Rome Every schoolboy can tell of Zeus and Hera of Achilles and Odysseus every schoolgirl of the golden apples of the Hesperides of Helen of Penelope yet to how many of our older folks even are the grand forms of Siegfried Chriemhild and Brunhild more than mere names It is true that a tendency is now springing up in England and in Germany once more to enquire into these old tales nay beliefs of our common ancestry It is true that we have a Morris and they a Wagner but we should wish to see the people of both nations take a more general interest in a subject of such intrinsic worth to them their long forgotten heritage It is not the history of class books that they will find in it it is that of their fathers manners and customs of their joys and sufferings their games and occupations festivals and religious observances battles victories and defeats their virtues and their crimes Such is the golden field that lies beneath our feet which unheeded we have let lie fallow till it has almost faded from memory In a previous volume Asgard and the Gods the Tales and Traditions of our Northern Ancestors we have endeavoured to give an account of the religion of our ancient Norse parents In this volume we are occupied with their legendary lore Tijdschrift van het Koninklijk Nederlandsch Aardrijkskundig Genootschap, 1928 Tijdschrift Koninklijk Nederlands Aardrijkskundig Genootschap, 1892 De Hoogere Burgerschool, 1860 Voornaamste gebeurtenissen en merkwaardige personen uit de algemeene geschiedenis T. Knuivers, 1874 De Aarde in haar volken, 1907 De wereldhistorie O. Baas, 1873 Journal of economic and social geography, 1917 Ronald Hallifax, of Leve de zee!, 1896 De Zeeuwsche expeditie naar de West onder Cornelis Evertsen den jonge, 1672-1674, Nieuw Nederland een jaar onder Nederlandsch bestuur Cornelis Evertsen, 1928
