Constable Around The Village Constable Series:

Constable Around the Village Nicholas Rhea, 2008 As he settles into the village life of Aidensfield North Yorkshire Police Constable Nick Rhea begins to understand the complexities of rural law enforcement much of which proves to be very unofficial but highly effective We hear of his dilemmas as he is torn between his desire to prove the crippled Sidney Chapman's dog innocent of sheep worrying and the need to do his duty Farmer Lowe's sheepdog presents a different problem the overworked old dog is pretending to be deaf and Rhea finds himself drawn into the crisis without the dog the cows cannot be milked Local colours and characters abound The mixed creeds of the community provide more headaches for Rhea for example Jame Bathurst's funeral goes quite smoothly except that the village grave digger does not want the death bed convert buried in Catholic ground and has omitted to dig the grave Rivalry abounds between Anglicans Catholics and Methodists and Rhea has his work cut out More problems stem from the unlawful activities of Arnold Merryweather's bus with its massive conductress Hannah a jockey who steals supplies for his hungry horse and the old railway worker who vanishes as the last train passes through the village In all a vivid light hearted insight into rural bobbying
