Cities And Cinema Routledge Critical Introductions To Urbanism And The City:

Cities and Cinema Barbara Mennel, 2019-05-13 The second edition of Cities and Cinema provides an updated survey of films about cities from their significance for modernity at the beginning of the twentieth century to the contemporary relationship between virtual reality and urban space The book demonstrates the importance of the filmic depiction of capitals for national cinemas in the twentieth century and analyzes the transnational transfer of cinematic images surrounding global cities in the twenty first century Cities and Cinema covers the different facets of the cinematic depiction of cities It rehearses distinct methodologies and offers a survey of the history of the cinematic city The book also deepens our understanding of tropes and narrative conventions that shape films about urban settings and that reflect the transformation of cities throughout the twentieth and twenty first centuries Beginning with a discussion of the Weimar street film it analyzes how the city film defined modernity The book outlines the sociological context and the aesthetic features of so called film noir made in 1940s Hollywood and depicting Los Angeles Paris became the site for the development of auteur cinema which repeatedly depicts characters moving through the city Tokyo took up noir to signal modern crime The volume delineates how filmic genres such as science fiction comment on the present by imagining future forms of urban living After analyzing how cinema captures the relationship between sexual identity and urban anonymity migration and urban space and marginalized ethnic and sexual identity in ghetto films the book emphasizes transnational dynamics and global cities in the twenty first century Its conclusion points to the increasing virtual mediation of cities with new media Cities and Cinema offers a historical overview of the development of films about cities and a theoretical approach to the intersection of urban studies and film studies This title is designed as a textbook primarily for second year undergraduate students in Film Media studies Urban studies as well as Geography and Planning

Cities and Cinema Barbara Caroline Mennel, 2008 Films about cities abound They provide fantasies for those who recognize their city and those for whom the city is a faraway dream or nightmare How does cinema rework city planners hopes and city dwellers fears of modern urbanism Can an analysis of city films answer some of the questions posed in urban studies What kinds of vision for the future and images of the past do city films offer What are the changes that city films have undergone Cities and Cinema puts urban theory and cinema studies in dialogue The book s first section analyzes three important genres of city films that follow in historical sequence each associated with a particular city moving from the city film of the Weimar Republic to the film noir associated with Los Angeles and the image of Paris in the cinema of the French New Wave The second section discusses socio historical themes of urban studies beginning with the relationship of film industries and individual cities continuing with the portrayal of war torn and divided cities and ending with the cinematic expression of utopia and dystopia in urban science fiction The last section negotiates the question of identity and place in a global world moving from the portrayal of ghettos and barrios to the city as a setting for gay and lesbian desire to end with the representation of the global city in transnational cinematic practices The book suggests that modernity links urbanism and cinema It accounts for the significant changes that city film has undergone through processes of globalization during which the city has developed from an icon in national cinema to a privileged site for transnational cinematic practices It is a key text for students and researchers of film studies urban studies and cultural studies Cities and Cinema Barbara Mennel, 2008-03-19 Films about cities abound They provide fantasies for those who recognize their city and those for whom the city is a faraway dream or nightmare How does cinema rework city planners hopes and city dwellers fears of modern urbanism Can an analysis of city films answer some of the questions posed in urban studies What kinds of vision for the future and images of the past do city films offer What are the changes that city films have undergone Cities and Cinema puts urban theory and cinema studies in dialogue The book's first section analyzes three important genres of city films that follow in historical sequence each associated with a particular city moving from the city film of the Weimar Republic to the film noir associated with Los Angeles and the image of Paris in the cinema of the French New Wave The second section discusses socio historical themes of urban studies beginning with the relationship of film industries and individual cities continuing with the portrayal of war torn and divided cities and ending with the cinematic expression of utopia and dystopia in urban science fiction The last section negotiates the question of identity and place in a global world moving from the portrayal of ghettos and barrios to the city as a setting for gay and lesbian desire to end with the representation of the global city in transnational cinematic practices The book suggests that modernity links urbanism and cinema It accounts for the significant changes that city film has undergone through processes of globalization during which the city has developed from an icon in national cinema to a privileged site for transnational cinematic practices It is a key text for students and researchers of film studies urban studies and cultural studies Queer Film Festivals and Urban Space Theresa Heath, 2025-03-10 This timely and innovative book argues that queer film festivals reclaim urban space for queer women and other marginalised queer subjects through the mobilisation of both material and diegetic space It is a response to the loss of queer urban venues and community spaces across many parts of the Global North and a claim for the political potential of queer film festivals in the context of late stage capitalism Drawing from critical events studies film and film festival scholarship archival research cultural geography and research in the creative industries the book deploys an interdisciplinary arsenal of tools in order to understand the complexity of festival space Covering the period from 1980 to the present the volume posits original case studies of two long running festivals as well as analysis of ephemeral grassroots events This thorough and critical exploration offers significant insight into the strategies deployed by queer film festivals to carve out queer geographies in the city and the potential of event driven place making to construct alternative morphologies and more equitable approaches to urban space This volume will be of pivotal interest to students scholars and academics of critical event and festival studies film and film festival studies cultural creative and media industries cultural geography sociology and urban studies as well as those with an interest in these areas more generally Leadership in Architectural

Research Hazem Rashed-Ali, Shelley Roff, 2009 Cities and Sexualities Phil Hubbard, 2013-03 Detailing the relationships between sexed bodies sexual subjectivities and forms of intimacy Cities and Sexualities explores the role of the city in shaping our sexual lives At the same time it describes how the actions of urban governors city planners the police and judiciary combine to produce cities in which some sexual proclivities and tastes are normalized and others excluded In so doing it maps out the diverse sexual landscapes of the city from spaces of courtship coupling and cohabitation through to sites of adult entertainment prostitution and pornography Considering both the normative geographies of heterosexuality and monogamy as well as urban geographies of radical queer sex this book provides a unique perspective on the relationship between sex and the city Urban Landscapes and National Visions in Post-Millennial South Korean Cinema Gemma Ballard, 2023-05-11 This book explores South Korean cinema's inimitable relationship with the urban landscape and identifies the ways in which Seoul is utilised as a celluloid canvas national artefact and above all else a distinctive cultural backdrop Using five different approaches to urban space from five distinctive and contrasting theoretical perspectives Urban Landscapes in Post Millennial South Korean Cinema investigates and seeks to understand why the cinematic representation identity and presence of Seoul have been central to the preservation and recognition of the South Korean film industry as an independent autonomous and nationally unique institution On Video Games Soraya Murray, 2017-10-30 Today over half of all American households own a dedicated game console and gaming industry profits trump those of the film industry worldwide In this book Soraya Murray moves past the technical discussions of games and offers a fresh and incisive look at their cultural dimensions She critically explores blockbusters like The Last of Us Metal Gear Solid Spec Ops The Line Tomb Raider and Assassin's Creed to show how they are deeply entangled with American ideological positions and contemporary political cultural and economic conflicts As quintessential forms of visual material in the twenty first century mainstream games both mirror and spur larger societal fears hopes and dreams and even address complex struggles for recognition This book examines both their elaborately constructed characters and densely layered worlds whose social and environmental landscapes reflect ideas about gender race globalisation and urban life In this emerging field of study Murray provides novel theoretical approaches to discussing games and playable media as culture Demonstrating that games are at the frontline of power relations she reimagines how we see them and more importantly how we understand them The Child in British Cinema Matthew Smith, 2022-07-22 This book argues that over the twentieth and twenty first centuries the cinema in Britain became the site on which childhood was projected examined and understood Through an analysis of these projections via case studies that encompass early cinema pre and post war film and contemporary cinema this book interprets the child in British cinema as a device through which to reflect upon issues of national culture race empire class and gender Beginning with a discussion of early cinematic depictions of the child in Britain this book examines cultural expressions of nationhood produced via non commercial cinemas for children It considers the way cinema encroaches on the moral edification of the child and the ostensible vibrancy and vitality of the British boy in post war cinema The author explores the representational and instrumental differences between depictions of boys and girls before extending this discussion to investigate the treatment of migrant refugee and immigrant children in British cinema It ends by recapitulating these arguments through a discussion of internationally successful British blockbuster cinema The child in this study is a mobile figure deployed across generic boundaries throughout the history of British cinema and embodying a range of discourses regarding the health and wellbeing of the nation

Cities and Economies Yeong-Hyun Kim, John Rennie Short, 2007-12-12 Cities and Economies explores the complex and subtle connections between cities and economies The rise of the merchant city the development of the industrial city and the creation of the service dominated urban economy are all explored along with economic globalization and its effects on cities in both developed and developing economies This book provides a thorough examination of the role of the city in shaping economic processes and explains the different effects that economies have on cities It provides an invaluable and unrivaled guide to the relationship between urban structure and economic processes as they compare and contrast across the world The authors examine the complex relationships between the city and the economy in historical and global contexts as well as evaluating the role of world cities the economic impacts of megacities and the role of the state in shaping urban economic policies They focus on the ways in which cities have led and at the same time adapted to economic shifts Large cities are viewed as the centres of regional and national economies while a small number are defined by their centrality in the global economy The book examines key ideas and concepts on the economic aspects of urban change explores the changing nature of urban economies and their relationships with changes at the national and global levels compares current economic issues and policies of large cities around the world explores the links between globalization and economic changes in cities and the growing competitions between them Cities and Economies uses case studies photographs and maps expanding across the US Western Europe and Asia Written in a clear and accessible style the book answers some fundamental questions about the economic role of cities It is an essential text for students of geography economics sociology urban studies and urban planning
