Functions of Psalms and Prayers in the Late Second Temple Period Mika S. Pajunen, Jeremy Penner, 2017-07-24 When thinking about psalms and prayers in the Second Temple period the Masoretic Psalter and its reception is often given priority because of modern academic or theological interests This emphasis tends to skew our understanding of the corpus we call psalms and prayers and often dampens or mutes the lived context within which these texts were composed and used This volume is comprised of a collection of articles that explore the diverse settings in which psalms and prayers were used and circulated in the late Second Temple period The book includes essays by experts in the Hebrew bible the Dead Sea scrolls Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha and the New Testament in which a wide variety of topics approaches and methods both old and new are utilized to explore the many functions of psalms and prayers in the late Second Temple period Included in this volume are essays examining how psalms were read as prophecy as history as liturgy and as literature A variety of methodologies are employed and include the use of cognitive sciences and poetics linguistic theory psychology redaction criticism and literary theory

Hearing Our Prayers Juliette J. Day, 2024-05-10 2025 Catholic Media Association Third Place Award Liturgy or Worship How do we hear our prayers In the words of philosopher Gemma Corradi Fiumara there can be no saying without hearing no speaking which is not an integral part of listening no speech which is not somehow received Therefore hearing should be considered an essential aspect of participation in Christian worship However although almost all studies of Christian worship attend to the words spoken and sung almost none consider how worshippers hear in the liturgical event In Hearing Our Prayers Juliette Day draws upon insights from liturgical studies philosophy psychology acoustical science and architectural studies to investigate how acts of audition occur in Christian worship The book discusses the different listening strategies worshippers use for speech chant and music as well as for silence and noise why paying attention in church can be so difficult and how what we hear is affected by the buildings in which worship takes place Day concludes by identifying liturgical listening as a particular type of ritual participation and emphasizes that liturgical listening is foundational for the way in which we pray and think about God the church and the world
