Ciudad Los Gatos City Cats:

Spanish Mercy Arland Ussher, 1959 Old Spain and New Spain David Henn, 2004 This is the first book length study of the six travel narratives published by the 1989 winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature Preliminary chapters focus on technical and thematic aspects of travel writing and on the author's approach to the genre Cela's travel works which appeared between 1948 and 1986 are examined in turn with a focus on the construction of the narratives and also on the themes that are developed in each of them There is an assessment of the author's treatment of topographical cultural historical and social material in his accounts of the journeys he made through various areas and regions of Spain as well as a consideration of the way in which these narratives reflect changes taking place in Spain during the Franco regime and in the decade following the dictator's death David Henn teaches modern Spanish fiction drama and travel literature at University College London

The Dialectics of Exile Sophia A. McClennen, 2004 The history of exile literature is as old as the history of writing itself Despite this vast and varied literary tradition criticism of exile writing has tended to analyze these works according to a binary logic where exile either produces creative freedom or it traps the writer in restrictive nostalgia The Dialectics of Exile Nation Time Language and Space in Hispanic Literatures offers a theory of exile writing that accounts for the persistence of these dual impulses and for the ways that they often co exist within the same literary works Focusing on writers working in the latter part of the twentieth century who were exiled during a historical moment of increasing globalization transnational economics and the theoretical shifts of postmodernism Sophia A McClennen proposes that exile literature is best understood as a series of dialectic tensions about cultural identity Through comparative analysis of Juan Goytisolo Spain Ariel Dorfman Chile and Cristina Peri Rossi Uruguay this book explores how these writers represent exile identity Each chapter addresses dilemmas central to debates over cultural identity such as nationalism versus globalization time as historical or cyclical language as representationally accurate or disconnected from reality and social space as utopic or dystopic McClennen demonstrates how the complex writing of these three authors functions as an alternative discourse of cultural identity that not only challenges official versions imposed by authoritarian regimes but also tests the limits of much cultural criticism

Kutzinski,2012-09-18 The poet Langston Hughes was a tireless world traveler and a prolific translator editor and marketer Translations of his own writings traveled even more widely than he did earning him adulation throughout Europe Asia and especially the Americas In The Worlds of Langston Hughes Vera Kutzinski contends that for writers who are part of the African diaspora translation is more than just a literary practice it is a fact of life and a way of thinking Focusing on Hughes s autobiographies translations of his poetry his own translations and the political lyrics that brought him to the attention of the infamous McCarthy Committee she shows that translating and being translated and often mistranslated are as vital to Hughes's own poetics as they are to understanding the historical network of cultural relations known as literary modernism. As Kutzinski maps the trajectory of Hughes's writings across Europe and the Americas we see the remarkable extent to which the translations of his poetry were in conversation with the work of other modernist writers. Kutzinski spotlights cities whose role as meeting places for modernists from all over the world has yet to be fully explored: Madrid, Havana, Buenos Aires, Mexico City, and of course Harlem. The result is a fresh look at Hughes not as a solitary author who wrote in a single language but as an international figure at the heart of a global intellectual and artistic formation.
