Feminist Advocacy and Gender Equity in the Anglophone Caribbean Michelle V. Rowley, 2013-05-13 This book uses the Anglophone Caribbean as its site of critique to explore two important questions within development studies First to what extent has the United Nations call to implement gender mainstreaming projects resulted in the realization of gender equity for women within developing societies Second does gender mainstreaming have the conceptual operational and technical capacities to address the centrality of the body in 21st century lobbies for gender equity In answering these questions Rowley examines such issues as reproductive rights and equity sexual harassment and sexual minorities rights Racism and "Free Speech" Anshuman A. Mondal, 2025-01-23 Free speech has become central to discussions about racism and is increasingly weaponised against anti racist movements This book argues that the weaponization of free speech across the political spectrum particularly by the far right alt right has been central to the resurgence rehabilitation and normalisation of racism within the mainstream politics of western liberal democracies in the last decade The dilemma then for anti racist movements is how to respond to such a challenge for if free speech allows racism then it follows that the elimination of racism is not possible Anshuman A Mondal argues that liberalism has made it look as if there is something called free speech when in fact speech is enabled by the structures of power within which we are all embedded These structures determine who gets to say what and whose voices are heard They create and sustain racism and anti racism should look beyond the mythology of free speech and focus instead on creating expressive regimes that foster racial and social justice by reshaping social discourse and transforming racialized structures of power
