Creating Postwar Canada Community Diversity And Dissent 1945 75:

Creating Postwar Canada Magda Fahrni, Robert Rutherford, 2008-07-01 Creating Postwar Canada showcases new research on this complex period exploring postwar Canada's diverse symbols and battlegrounds. Contributors to the first half of the collection consider evolving definitions of the nation, examining the ways in which Canada was reimagined to include both the Canadian North and landscapes structured by trade and commerce. The essays in the latter half analyze debates on shopping hours, professional striptease, the provider role of fathers, interracial adoption, sexuality on campus, and illegal drug use issues that shaped how the country defined itself in sociocultural and political terms. This collection contributes to the historiography of nationalism, gender, and the family, consumer cultures, and countercultures. Welcome to Resisterville Kathleen Rodgers, 2014-04-25 Between 1965 and 1975, thousands of American migrants traded their established lives for a new beginning in the West Kootenay region of British Columbia. Some were non-violent resisters who opposed the war in Vietnam. But a larger group was inspired by the ideals of the 1960s counterculture and hoping to flee the restrictive demands of their parents' world, they set out to build a peaceful, egalitarian society in the Canadian wilderness. Even today, their success is evident as these impassioned ideals still define community life. Welcome to Resisterville is both a look at an untold chapter in Canadian history and a compelling story of enduring idealism. Serpent River Resurgence Lianne C. Leddy, 2022-01-27 Serpent River Resurgence tells the story of how the Serpent River Anishinaabek confronted the persistent forces of settler colonialism and the effects of uranium mining at Elliot Lake, Ontario. Drawing on extensive archival sources, oral histories, and newspaper articles, Lianne C. Leddy examines the environmental and political power relationships that affected her homeland in the Cold War period. Focusing on Indigenous-settler relations, the environmental and health consequences of the uranium industry, and the importance of traditional uses of land, and what happens when they are compromised, Serpent River Resurgence explores how settler colonialism and Anishinaabe resistance remained potent forces in Indigenous communities throughout the second half of the twentieth century. The Centennial Cure Meaghan Elizabeth Beaton, 2017-04-24 In The Centennial Cure, the second volume in the Studies in Atlantic Canada History series, Meaghan Elizabeth Beaton critically examines the intersection of state policy, cultural development, and commemoration in Nova Scotia during Canada's centennial celebrations. Beaton's engaging and insightful analysis of four case studies—the establishment of the Cape Breton Miners Museum, the construction of Halifax's Centennial Swimming Pool, the Community Improvement Program, and the 1967 Nova Scotia Highland Games and Folk Festival—reveals the province's attempts to reimagine and renew public spaces. Through these case studies, Beaton illuminates the myriad ways in which Nova Scotians saw themselves in the context of modernity and ethnic identity during the post-war years. The successes and failures of these infrastructure and cultural projects intended to foster and develop cultural capital reflected the socio-economic realities and dreams of local communities. The Centennial Cure shifts our focus away from the dominant studies on Expo 67 to provide a nuanced and tension filled account of how Canada's 1967 centennial celebrations were experienced in other parts of Canada Debating Dissent Lara A. Campbell, Dominique Clement, Gregory S. Kealey, 2012-10-09 Although the 1960s are overwhelmingly associated with student radicalism and the New Left most Canadians witnessed the decade's political economic and cultural turmoil from a different perspective Debating Dissent dispels the myths and stereotypes associated with the 1960s by examining what this era's transformations meant to diverse groups of Canadians and not only protestors youth or the white middle class With critical contributions from new and senior scholars Debating Dissent integrates traditional conceptions of the 1960s as a time apart within the broader framework of the long sixties and post 1945 Canada and places Canada within a local national and international context Cutting edge essays in social intellectual and political history reflect a range of historical interpretation and explore such diverse topics as narcotics the environment education workers Aboriginal and Black activism nationalism Quebec women and bilingualism Touching on the decade's biggest issues from changing cultural norms to the role of the state Debating Dissent critically examines ideas of generational change and the sixties The NGO Moment Kevin O'Sullivan, 2021-10-14 This book is a study of compassion as a global project from Biafra to Live Aid Kevin O'Sullivan explains how and why NGOs became the primary conduits of popular concern for the global poor between the late 1960s and the mid 1980s and shows how this shaped the West's relationship with the post colonial world Drawing on case studies from Britain Canada and Ireland as well as archival material from governments and international organisations he sheds new light on how the legacies of empire were re packaged and re purposed for the post colonial era and how a liberal definition of benevolence rooted in charity justice development and rights became the dominant expression of solidarity with the Third World In doing so the book provides a unique insight into the social cultural and ideological foundations of global civil society It reveals why this period provided such fertile ground for the emergence of NGOs and offers a fresh interpretation of how individuals in the West encountered the outside world Cold War Comforts Tarah Brookfield, 2012-05-01 Cold War Comforts examines Canadian women's efforts to protect children's health and safety between the dropping of the first atomic bomb in Hiroshima in 1945 and the end of the Vietnam War in 1975 Amid this global insecurity many women participated in civil defence or joined the disarmament movement as means to protect their families from the consequences of nuclear war To help children affected by conflicts in Europe and Asia women also organized foreign relief and international adoptions In Canada women pursued different paths to peace and security From all walks of life and from all parts of the country they dedicated themselves to finding ways to survive the hottest periods of the Cold War What united these women was their shared concern for children's survival amid Cold War fears and dangers Acting on their identities as Canadian citizens and mothers they characterized with their activism the genuine interest many women had in protecting children's health and safety In addition their activities offered them a legitimate space to operate in the traditionally male realms of defence and diplomacy Their efforts had a direct impact on the lives of children in Canada and abroad and influenced changes in Canada's education curriculum immigration laws welfare practices defence policy and international relations Cold War Comforts offers insight into how women employed maternalism nationalism and internationalism in their work and examines shifting constructions of family and gender in Cold War Canada It will appeal to scholars of history child and family studies and social policy

Small Stories of War Barbara Lorenzkowski, Kristine Alexander, Andrew Burtch, 2023-06-15 Many believed the twentieth century would be the century of the child an era in which modern societies would value and protect children sheltering them from violence and poverty Yet this hopeful vision was marred by the harsh realities of migration displacement and armed conflict Small Stories of War grapples with the meanings and memories of childhood and wartime by asking new questions about lived experience Spanning the First World War to the early twenty first century and featuring chapters about Canada Australia Germany the former Yugoslavia Rwanda and northern Uganda this volume asks how young people encountered and responded to armed conflict How did children youth and their families make sense of war in the violent twentieth century How have they shared their stories and experiences of violence and trauma Analyzing a broad range of sources including family letters oral history and children's artwork contributors offer important insights into the production of historical knowledge with and about young people Engaging with cutting edge debates about emotions temporality space and young people as political actors Small Stories of War offers compelling new research and an interpretive toolkit that will benefit scholars from across the social sciences and humanities

The Golden Age of Liberalism Naomi E. S. Griffiths, 2011-09-30 This book explores the life and times of Roméo LeBlanc one of Canada's most popular and successful politicians and statesmen Probably best known as the long standing fisheries minister in Pierre Trudeau's cabinet from 1974 to 1982 LeBlanc's career spanned the golden era of Liberalism in Canada He capped his career during the nineties as the country's twenty fifth governor general Historian Naomi E S Griffiths spent many years reading through LeBlanc's papers and interviewing many of his colleagues to explore the worlds he moved in Paris in the late forties and early fifties world capitals during his time as a journalist and then Ottawa As a writer with an in depth knowledge of the Acadian communities of the Maritimes she knows his roots very well Her biography covers his early years in New Brunswick where he was born into rural poverty his years as a journalist in Ottawa his heyday as a minister in Trudeau's cabinet and his years at Rideau Hall Along the way Ms Griffiths reveals many intriguing insights about her subject's contemporaries including Lester Pearson Pierre Trudeau and Jean Chrétien She also discusses the importance of LeBlanc's Acadian heritage in animating all that he did This engrossing biography illuminates the life of one of Canada's most beloved politicians and statesmen and with it a fascinating era in our history

Equality Deferred Dominique Clément, 2014-05-06 In Equality Deferred Dominique Clément traces the history of sex discrimination in Canadian law and the origins of human rights legislation Focusing on British Columbia the first jurisdiction to prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex he documents a variety of absurd almost unbelievable acts of discrimination Drawing on previously undisclosed human rights commission records Clement explores the rise and fall of what was once the country's most progressive human rights legal regime and reveals how political divisions and social movements shaped the human rights state This book is not only a testament to the revolutionary impact of human rights on Canadian law but also a reminder that it takes more than laws to effect transformative social change
