Condemned To Repeat The Paradox Of Humanitarian Action:

Condemned to Repeat? Fiona Terry, 2013-04-12 Humanitarian groups have failed Fiona Terry believes to face up to the core paradox of their activity humanitarian action aims to alleviate suffering but by inadvertently sustaining conflict it potentially prolongs suffering In Condemned to Repeat Terry examines the side effects of intervention by aid organizations and points out the need to acknowledge the political consequences of the choice to give aid The author makes the controversial claim that aid agencies act as though the initial decision to supply aid satisfies any need for ethical discussion and are often blind to the moral quandaries of aid Terry focuses on four historically relevant cases Rwandan camps in Zaire Afghan camps in Pakistan Salvadoran and Nicaraguan camps in Honduras and Cambodian camps in Thailand Terry was the head of the French section of Medecins sans frontieres Doctors Without Borders when it withdrew from the Rwandan refugee camps in Zaire because aid intended for refugees actually strengthened those responsible for perpetrating genocide This book contains documents from the former Rwandan army and government that were found in the refugee camps after they were attacked in late 1996 This material illustrates how combatants manipulate humanitarian action to their benefit Condemned to Repeat makes clear that the paradox of aid demands immediate attention by organizations and governments around the world The author stresses that if international agencies are to meet the needs of populations in crisis their organizational behavior must adjust to the wider political and socioeconomic contexts in which aid occurs Forced Migration and Global Processes Francois Crepeau, Delphine Nakache, Michael Collyer, Nathaniel H. Goetz, Art Hansen, 2006-03-28 Migration is at the center of much of the discussion on globalization Migrants move across borders and thus defy state centered traditions Migration is often caused or influenced by aspects of global change the transformation of the world economy with the expansion of free trade the modification of the world balance of power and the challenge of global insecurity the emergence of the global environment as an important political issue and the redefinition of the role of communities in shaping identities when faced with networks of migrants and diasporas Forced Migration and Global Processes considers the crossroads of forced migration with three global trends development human rights and security This expert collection studies these complex interactions and aims to help determine what solutions may alleviate most of the human suffering involved in forced migrations The Paradoxes of Aid Work Silke Roth, 2015-03-24 This book explores what attracts people to aidwork and to what extent the promises of aidwork are fulfilled Aidland is a highly complex and heterogeneous context which includes many different occupations forms of employment and organizations Analysing the processes that lead to the involvement in development cooperation emergency relief and human rights work and tracing the pathways into and through Aidland the book addresses working and living conditions in Aidland gender relations and inequality among aid personnel and what impact aidwork has on the life courses of aidworkers In order to capture the trajectories that lead to Aidland a biographical perspective is employed which reveals that boundary crossing between development cooperation emergency relief and human rights is not unusual and that considering these fields as separate spheres might overlook important connections Rich reflexive data is used to theorize about the often contradictory experiences of people working in aid whose careers are shaped by geo politics changing priorities of donors and a changing composition of the aid sector Exploring the life worlds of people working in aid this book contributes to the emerging sociology and anthropology of aidwork and will be of interest to professionals and researchers in humanitarian and development studies sociology anthropology political science and international relations international social work and social psychology

Humanitarianism in the Modern World Norbert Götz, Georgina Brewis, Steffen Werther, 2020-07-23 This is an innovative new history of famine relief and humanitarianism The authors apply a moral economy approach to shed new light on the forces and ideas that motivated and shaped humanitarian aid during the Great Irish Famine the famine of 1921 1922 in Soviet Russia and the Ukraine and the 1980s Ethiopian famine They place these episodes within a distinctive periodisation of humanitarianism which emphasises the correlations with politico economic regimes the time of elitist laissez faire liberalism in the nineteenth century as one of ad hoc humanitarianism that of Taylorism and mass society from c 1900 1970 as one of organised humanitarianism and the blend of individualised post material lifestyles and neoliberal public management since 1970 as one of expressive humanitarianism The book as a whole shifts the focus of the history of humanitarianism from the imperatives of crisis management to the pragmatic mechanisms of fundraising relief efforts on the ground and finance This book is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Political Minefields Matthew Breay Bolton, 2020-07-23 Thousands of people around the world are maimed and killed by landmines and unexploded ammunition every year International law classifies landmines as evil in themselves but minefields are expressions of political minefields that create them and allow them to persist In this travelogue through Iraq Laos Cambodia Bosnia Afghanistan Sudan South Sudan and New York City we follow Matthew Bolton s quest for solutions to the landmine crisis and emerging autonomous weapons Throughout his journey we meet deminers paramilitaries journalists mercenaries diplomats aid workers and campaigners working in and around the minefields It is a must read for those working to alleviate the devastation of war

Strategies of Peace Daniel Philpott, Gerard Powers, 2010-03-24 How can a just peace be built in sites of genocide massive civil war dictatorship terrorism and poverty In Strategies of Peace the first volume in the Studies in Strategic Peacebuilding series fifteen leading scholars propose an imaginative and provocative approach to peacebuilding Today the dominant thinking is the liberal peace which stresses cease fires elections and short run peace operations carried out by international institutions western states and local political elites But the liberal peace is not enough the authors argue A just and sustainable peace requires a far more holistic vision that links together activities actors and institutions at all levels By exploring innovative models for building lasting peace a United Nations counter terrorism policy that also promotes good governance coordination of the international prosecution of war criminals with local efforts to settle civil wars increasing the involvement of religious leaders who have a unique ability to elicit peace settlements and many others the authors advance a bold new vision for peacebuilding
